EUREKA (Cal.) June 13.—Two persons were killed, two injured probably fatally and another is missing as the result of an automobile accident tonight near Crescent City, 93 miles north of Eureka, according to advices received here.

According to all available information, the dead are:

MR. AND MRS. ALLEY, Santa Barbara.

The injured:

H. H. Gardner, Santa Barbara.

Mrs. G. Stockton, address unknown.

From all indications, the automobile in going down a steep grade struck a log and swerved over and down the bank.

The body of Mrs. Alley was found lying against a piece of timber. Alley was near the overturned automobile and, after asking "Is my wife all right?" gave his name and asked that a sister, Miss Pearl Bengham of Medford, Or., be notified. He died a few minutes later.

Persons passing the scene of the tragedy discovered the wrecked automobile and had to be lowered on ropes to rescue the dead and injured.

SANTA BARBARA, June 13.—William H. Alley, who with his wife was killed in an automobile accident near Eureka tonight, was a wealthy resident of the fashionable Montecito suburb to Santa Barbara. He had made his residence here and in Chicago for twelve years. Alley was chairman of the local exemption board serving theoughout the war, and had been active here in work of philanthropy. Mrs. Hatty G. Stockton, who was injured, is Alley's sister.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—An airplane piloted by Al Wilson and carrying William W. McKeighan as a passenger arrived here today from Los Angeles, completing what was said to have been the first trip between the two cities made by airplane used for commercial purposes. The plane left Hollywood Thursday morning.

Stops were made at Bakersfield and Fresno, where Wilson and McKeighan remained for the night. The flight was resumed today with a stop at Modesto for gasoline.

The distance by air line between Los Angeles and this city, approximately 400 miles, was covered in seven hours and twenty-one minutes' actual flying time.

BULLETINS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 13.—Holland has notified the Peace Conference that the government will not participate in a blockade against Germany in the event of the refusal of Germany to sign the peace treaty.

SEATTLE, June 13.—At 6 o'clock tonight Gov. Lister, who has been ill in a hospital here several weeks, was in a very low condition, it was said at the hospital. He rallied slightly from a sinking spell which occurred between 3 and 4 o'clock.

SHOOTS HIMSELF ON BATCHELDER PORCH

Leo Grove of 4284 Harvard boulevard, a well-known contractor, shot himself on the porch of the residence of Mrs. J. D. Batchelder, 1001 South Park View avenue, early this morning and is not expected to live. Mrs. Batchelder is the wife of the real estate man who was shot by Charles J. Collins, with whom he had made an agreement to support Mrs. Collins. Grove, who is said to be a member of the Building Trades Council, was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

WILLARD IS FOUND FIT

Champion is Down to Weight.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOLEDO (O.) June 13.—Here's a slam for those who have criticised the training methods of Champion Jess Willard, the fellows who thought the champion wasn't making progress in conditioning for his battle with Jack Dempsey.

Urged to change his decision not to get on the scales until he had done at least two weeks' work, Willard stripped this morning and jumped on the weight register. Then came a big surprise—not only for those who wanted to know his weight, but for the champion himself. The hand of the machine swung around until it halted at 252 pounds.

Jess thought he was around the 255-pound notch and when he discovered he had reduced three pounds he was overjoyed and inclined to look with derision on those who have been panning his system of getting ready for his scrap with Dempsey.

"Well, what do you know about that?" said Willard. "I guess I've shown 'em I know what I'm doing."

WILL REDUCE TO 245.

That wasn't all that developed from this weight test. "I had figured on stepping into the ring for this fight weighing about 250 pounds," Willard added. "Now that I'm weighing 252 pounds I've set a mark for myself and that means I'm going to fight at 245 pounds, less than I weighed when I fought Jack Johnson and won the title and some thirteen pounds less than I weighed for that Moran bout.

"You bet I'll do that, and that reduction will give me a lot of speed."

Ringsiders at these training camp workouts who thought Jess might be fooling them a bit by boxing in full length tights to cover up softness and flabbiness got a little surprise party at the Casino. Jess for the first time hopped the hemp minus the tights and wearing the regulation fighting trunks.

SHOWS SOME EXTRA PEP.

Did Jess work? We say he did. He put on eight of the busiest rounds he has shown since he came here. He is cocksure of himself now after that weighing in and he showed it by the pep he exhibited. He mauled Hemple for three rounds and followed by swatting Monaghan around the ring another three.

Then came Bill Kitchell, the new sparring partner from New York. Kitchell is a fellow weighing 187 pounds.

The champion poked a left and right to Mr. Kitchell's midsection in the second round of the two-round session with such force that time was taken out for the new sparring partner to find his wind.

Just mark this down at 100 per cent. perfect dope: Willard is improving with every workout. He shot left jabs at his sparring partners with the speed of a man 100 pounds lighter. His footwork was mighty good for a man of his size and weight. The Jess Willard of today is in good condition for Jess Willard. There's plenty of time before the fight for him to get into championship form, and, unless this guess is a bloomer, the champion will face his challenger in better condition than he ever has been in for a championship tilt. Those who think Willard is fooling around had better copper that stuff right now.

IN DEMPSEY'S CAMP.

Doings at Dempsey's camp were the same as they have been since he was forced to abandon boxing on account of his injured brow. Jack pulled the regular bag punch-

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Sing Kee of San Jose, Chinese member of the American Expeditionary Forces and only Chinese in the American army to be decorated for bravery, was welcomed home from overseas here today by C. ULTIMATUM TO HUNS FROM MARSHAL FOCH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COBLENZ, June 13.—An ultimatum demanding the immediate continuation of the movement of Polish troops across Germany has been sent to the German government by Marshal Foch, according to dispatches from Spa.

Joins Democrats to Uphold League.

United States Senator McCumber

Of North Dakota, next ranking Republican to Senator Lodge on Foreign Relations Committee, who has cast party lines aside in support of the League of Nations covenant as a fixed part of the peace treaty with Germany. Senator McCumber will make the opening speech opposing the resolution of Senator Knox to separate the league covenant from the peace treaty when debate on the resolution opens Monday. It is predicted that at least seven other Republicans will follow Senator McCumber's lead and vote with the Democrats against the resolution, which will insure its defeat and permit President Wilson to go before the nation, as he has planned, with a complete analysis of the pact.

BRITISH SHELL RED BASE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, June 13. — A British squadron is bombarding the Bolshevik base at Kronstadt with heavy guns, according to a report published in the Aftonblad today.

The Bolshevik batteries are not replying to the British fire. The Bolsheviki have placed floating mines in he near-by waters.

The Aftonblad's report suggests that the Bolsheviki are trying to evacuate the town.

OMSK, Friday, June 6.—On the northern end of the front, west of the Urals, the Siberian troops have captured Glazov and are advancing toward Viatka, an official announcement says. On the southern front there is fighting near Sarapul and near Ufa.

A statement from the Siberian General Staff says: "The Siberian army continues the offensive in the direction of Viatka. We have crossed the river (Tcheptsa) north of Glazov and continue our advance, taking prisoners and war material. A battle is being waged north of Sarapul. Detachments of the Red army tried to cross the River Bielaya near Ufa, but were repulsed."

OMSK, Tuesday, June 3.—A proclamation, appealing to the soldiers of the Bolshevik army to come and aid the forces of the all-Russian government in the fight for a democratic Russia has been issued by the commander of the Siberian army.

MEDIATORS COMING TO THE OIL FIELDS.

WILL MAKE FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF DEMANDS OF DIFFERENT CRAFTSMEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 13.—Further investigation of the California oil, gas and refinery workers' demands for a $5 daily minimum and eight-hour shifts for every craft in the oil belt will be made by a special mediation commission from Washington, which will arrive in Bakersfield about the end of the month, according to Lee F. Scott, International Oil Workers' vice-president. The Federal oil conciliation board, having war powers only, has resigned, and the new mediators will come clothed with government powers to seek a settlement of the dispute.

About eight months ago the oil workers put in their claims for the $5 minimum and last March the Oil Conciliation Board announced an award which, the oil workers claim, amounted to the $4.25 minimum and nine-hour day for certain crafts, notably truck drivers and teamsters. The acceptance of this wage scale was voted under protest but the new award never has been put in effect. The employers also found fault with it, and the conciliation board going out of office, no authority was left to enforce it.

As a result of the failure to get the $5 minimum, opposition developed within the oil workers' ranks against accepting the oil board's award and a new California State executive board was organized with Fellows, Bakersfield, Brea, Coalinga, Maricopa, Lost Hills and Santa Maria represented.

MILITARY POLICE ARE KEPT BUSY ON RHINE.

AMERICANS AND GERMANS ARE ON THE EDGE OF CLASH AND ARRESTS FREQUENT.

By Edwin L. James.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COBLENZ, June 13.—There are many indications that Americans and Germans in the occupied territory are on the edge of a serious clash. The military police have their hands full to deal with the situation. Allied troubles in the Peace Conference and the continued delay there have filled the Germans with spite and exultation, the manifestation of which becomes extremely disagreeable to the Americans. This arrogant spirit has been growing ever since the peace terms were handed to the Germans and has become unbearable in the last fifteen days.

Germans crowd Americans off the sidewalks, pass insulting remarks about Wilson and America, slur the American soldiers, and, despite warnings and orders by Gen. Liggett that doughboys shall avoid, at almost any cost, personal clashes with the Germans, the situation becomes worse.

While the Germans are more arrogant, the Americans are becoming freer in venting their feelings. The continuance of their sojourn on the Rhine has spoiled their dispositions to some extent and when they feel cocky they take it out on the Boches.

Therefore, the jail is overflowing. The prisoners are about evenly divided between Americans and Germans. Last night all cells were full and 110 prisoners slept on the attic floor.

FINISH REPLY TO GERMANS; RANTZAU ABOUT READY TO QUIT; MAY SIGN NEXT WEEK

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 13.—The drafting committee has completed the work of framing the letter covering the reply to the German counter-proposals. It recalls that the principles upon which the treaty is based are such as to preclude the Allies from making fundamental concessions.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau has asked a special train be placed at his disposal as soon as the reply to the German counter-proposals is handed to him. The Count, is said, intends to go to Cologne as soon as he receives the reply.

The final settlement of the question of the left bank of the Rhine provides for an Allied civil commission for control of the military occupation of the region.

HUNS MAY GET ALLIED ANSWER THIS EVENING.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, June 13.—It is believed today that the presentation of the Allied answer to the German counter-proposals will take place Sunday evening or Monday morning. It is asserted that the Germans will be granted eight days within which to determine whether they will sign the treaty.

The reply is likely to be made public Monday, according to present plans. It is expected that the text of the German counter-proposals, which has never been given out, also will be made public shortly.

The British have made an eleventh-hour attempt to reopen the question of reparations. They have submitted proposals introducing into the functions of the permanent reparations commission the principle of control of raw materials, etc., furnished Germany, enabling the commission to control Germany's economic development during the period it operates.

The British effort has not met with a sympathetic reception by the reparations commission, to which it was referred. It seems improbable that the proposals will be accepted, but they constitute one of the causes of the delay of the reply to the Germans.

TREATY TO BE REWRITTEN.

The peace treaty with Germany will be entirely rewritten and reprinted, for the incorporation textually of the explanations and clarifications contained in the Allied reply.

While unchanged in principle, virtually a new document will be presented to the Germans.

It is understood that the new treaty will be made public on the day of its delivery or the day after.

The council of four, it develops, decided that simply to attach the reply to the original document was impracticable, as important clauses would be left obscure and imperfect. Hence the decision to rewrite the document.

It was commented in Peace Conference circles today that this action renders obsolete the text published in the United States.

The council of four today devoted both of its sessions to the revision of the text of the treaty. When the forenoon session ended the council had sent to the revision commission nine out of eighteen reports before it. Among those remaining to be passed are several dealing with important subjects.

INCLUDE SAAR BASIN.

These subjects include the Saar Valley, Alsace-Lorraine and the League of Nations.

The revision commission, which is in constant session, is headed by Andre Tardieu of the French mission. The other members are Sir Philip Kerr, representing Great Britain; Signor Vannutelli, Italy; Sadao Saburi, Japan, and Mr. Hudson, the United States.

Much of the divergencies from the old text in the new treaty are of a minor nature, but some are highly important. This is notably true of the second paragraph of Article CCXXXII, where the English text of the old document limited compensation Germany was to make to damage done the civilian population of the Allied and associated powers and to their property "during the period of the belligerency of each as an Allied or associated power against Germany."

EXCLUDED AMERICA.

This wording excluded American losses during the period of the neutrality of the United States and Italian losses during the time when Italy was at war with Austria, but not with Germany. The French text, however, contained no such limit clause.

The drafting committees elsewhere had used the words "may" and "shall" in the same French expression, apparently without noticing the important difference involved.

Aside from the divergencies I have noted, the reparations clauses will go into the new treaty virtually unchanged. Other sections of the treaty, however, will be rewritten.

The treaty may make some slight changes regarding the disposition of certain of the contested districts on the Belgo-German frontier.

The financial clauses will be amended to give the reparations commission discretion to authorize Germany to raise working capital for restarting her industries and enable her to pay her reparations. The original text established an absolute first charge upon German assets and revenues to meet reparation payments, which condition the reparation commission could not waive even in instances where a waiver was advisable from the Entente viewpoint.

A new text is required to cover the changes in the Polish frontier and the plebiscite in Silesia. The intimation was made today that a revised draft on the Danish frontiers is expected, indicating the conference leaders had decided to take into consideration the objections of both Germany and Denmark to a plebiscite in the southernmost section of Schleswig.

G.O.P. MAY SAVE PACT.

Party Lines Down on League Vote.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Under a truce until Monday those Senators opposing the League of Nations and those preparing to stand by the President's peace programme to the last ditch are preparing for a sensational battle Monday. As noses are counted tonight the adherents of the policy of separating the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations are not strong enough to win on a test vote.

That every parliamentary device will be used on both sides to gain the advantage is assured. The Democratic supporters of the President will resort to every known form of filibuster to prevent the disintegration of the treaty in its present form. Several Republicans on a test vote will vote with the Democrats and were the vote to be held at once it might result in a tie or be a vote of two under the necessary number to pass the measure.

As in the Foreign Relations Committee the vote to report the resolution was 8 to 7 so the relative strength of the two sides in the Senate is very close. The vote in committee is significant from the fact that Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, cast his ballot with the Democrats each time a vote was taken, opposing the efforts of Knox and Lodge and the other Republican members of the committee, to embarrass the President and cause delays and confusion in consideration of the peace treaty when it comes before the Senate for ratification.

FILIBUSTER POSSIBLE.

Prolonged delay by the Democrats is possible and a filibuster for several weeks might easily result in order to give President Wilson time to go before the people. In order to terminate a filibuster under the present rules of the Senate two-thirds of all the votes present are required and the opponents to the President's peace of Nations plan under no form of combination can muster that many votes.

Senator Reed and possibly one or two other Democratic Senators may vote against the President on this treaty segregation plan, but there will be more than enough Republicans to hold up his hand to take the place of the Bolshevist Senators in the Democratic party. With a well organized filibuster the proponents of the separation of the treaty and the League of Nations are doomed to disappointment. In the opinion of men who have watched the fights in Congress for the last fifty years.

DIVISION IS CLOSE.

Those who oppose the President claim there are fifty-two votes against the combination of the treaty and the League of Nations together in the present form, but a test vote will show that the division is closer than that and now is even favorable to the ratification of the treaty in its present form. This agitation is apparently appearing in all of the Allied countries simultaneously and, whether intentional or not, is directly playing into the hands of the German propagandists who seek and have been seeking the disintegration of the Allies' community of interest.

Washington expects the President to win on the ground that common people of the United States are not greatly interested in a hectic quarrel between the Senate of the United States and the President, but are consumed with a desire to adopt the only antidote for war offered.

SENATE LINES TAUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senate leaders drew their lines more sharply today for the next phase of the treaty fight, to begin early next week around the resolution of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, proposing to put the Senate on record against accepting the League of Nations as now interwoven with the terms of peace.

After a series of conferences and much informal counting of votes, there were various predictions as to the course the struggle would take. Both sides were optimistic, but predicted long and stormy debate.

Whether opponents of the resolution should carry their fight to the point of parliamentary obstruction so as to prevent a vote until after signing of the treaty at Versailles was discussed at a conference of Democrats, attended by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska and several other members of the Foreign Relations Committee. Afterward the GERMAN SOCIALISTS DERIDE WILSON.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COBLENZ, June 12.—A Socialist meeting at which President Wilson was attacked was dispersed by the military authorities, who arrested the president and the secretary. Those present cheered the reading of an inflammatory article against the President which appeared in a Socialist organ published in Berlin.

German civilians are becoming more assertive that the government will not sign the peace terms, but they refuse to accept bets it will.

Rumors are circulated by irresponsibles that Coblenz is to be bombed from the air. The military commander shows little concern except that the rumor tends to excite the populace. Coblenz lies under American heavy artillery in the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, and the Boche seems to be doing most of the worrying.

A series of minor maneuvers involving all arms was carried out this week by the First and Second divisions east of the Rhine.

PEACE OR STRIKE, FRENCH EDICT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, June 13.—Official representatives of the railway unions throughout France were reported at a secret meeting in labor headquarters at Paris today, at which it was decided to issue an ultimatum to Clemenceau, that, unless peace is signed July 1, they will strike on that date. They will recommend a general strike throughout France, which will tie up all commercial, political, industrial and economic life.

The labor parties are greatly incensed at the delay of a conclusion of peace and openly blame Clemenceau for failure to bring the Germans to book. However, they have refused to countenance the general strike announced for June 16 and which will tally closely with reports of a general strike of the electrical workers in the United States. It was announced officially today there would be no demonstrations on that date, but, unless peace is signed and assurances given of better conditions of living, they would be unable to prevent a walkout July 1, which would completely tie up French industry.

Announcement of the threatened railway strike gives a serious setback to the hopeful strike situation. It was reported yesterday the subway workers would return to work without winning their fight. Some underground trains are running on all lines of Paris. Many tramways are operating and bus lines are nearing normal.

DENIES LEAGUE PARTISAN ISSUE.

Hays Rejects Challenge of Democratic Chairman.

Says Republicans will Return to the Constitution.

Declares There is no Twilight Zone in Politics.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORT WAYNE (Ind.) June 13.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in an address here tonight, rejected the challenge of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, recently made in Chicago, that the Republicans make a partisan issue of the League of Nations. Mr. Hays says:

"The concern of the treaty of peace, including all its provisions—when we know what they are—is in no sense a partisan question. It is an American question. In the same spirit in which Republicans during the war measured their every act by how they could contribute most to collective action, so now they are determined to meet this new phase of the war problem in that revived spirit of fervent Americanism which is the glorified result of our experience of fire and blood, moving with a full appreciation of this country's duty as a responsible factor in the world of today and tomorrow with the earnest determination to do all that can be done toward maintenance of peace without sacrificing our own supreme nationalism, the preservation of which in its integrity is the greatest safeguard for the future not only for the citizens of this country, but for all peoples everywhere."

BACK TO CONSTITUTION.

Speaking of his party, which controls both branches of Congress, Mr. Hays declared, "we shall bring this government back to the limitations of the Constitution in times of peace." He dwelt on the "preservation of our institutions" and "patriotism." Among his declarations were the following:

"With all our power we will strive to prevent the spread of Socialism."

"We have promised a forward stepping as well as a forward looking programme for labor, for business and for the farmer, and those promises we will keep.

"That criminal element, organized or unorganized, called I.W.W., or anything else, that goes about this country seeking whom it can destroy—that thing is a traitor to this country, nothing else, and should be treated as such."

"The Republican party will not forget, in the stress of other matters, that its protective tariff policies have made the wages of our laborers the highest in the world."

"The must be strong Federal regulation, but not Federal ownership."

"Shame on us for tolerating in our body politic an undigested mass making for nothing but internal disorder. If a man is loyal to any other flag—foreign, red or black—he is disloyal to the Stars and Stripes. Either these men are Americans or they are traitors. If they are traitors, they should be interned, deported or shot."

NO TWILIGHT ZONE.

"There is no zone of twilight in politics or public affairs; right is right and wrong is wrong, and the same strict standard of morals, equity and justice must obtain as in any private matter. When we get our politics entirely on this basis, when we live our patriotism daily, we will do a citizen's full duty, and not until then. I have no use for the individual who is either 'too busy' or 'too good' to help. He has no just complaint to make, whatever happens. He is riding on another's ticket.

"Let us have a patriotism of Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt—not a patriotism which moves us only when an enemy is at our gates, but a patriotism which moves us every day to realize what we owe to the country in which we live. The way all creeds and classes arose as one man in the country's emergency is the greatest vindication of our institution.

"We have insisted and now insist we are as prepared for peace as we were for war. We slipped along under this Democratic administration without any adequate thought of the problems that would confront us just as we did before we entered the war. 'Watchful waiting' was as fallacious in this as it was to Mexico, or as to the failure to prepare for war when war was at our gates, or as to Russia."

Mr. Hays praised passage of the suffrage amendment and said the Republican vote for the measure spoke for itself.

"The party had a great duty ahead in taking a hold of the situation in Washington," he said, "in the interests of economy."

"The war bill will be paid and willingly, but we do not propose to permit the use of the war as an alibi for everything."

A special session of Congress should have been called much sooner, he said, but there now shall "be legislation to establish business on a safe and sane basis; Congress will take hold of the railroad problem, and return of the wires to their owners will be required; legislation will be developed for "a better relation between capital and labor with justice for both;" a budget system will be established; the diplomatic system will be improved; the shipping problem solved; soldiers who won the war will be remembered and "our position on international relations" will be developed.

THEORIES ON COURTS-MARTIAL VARIOUS.

REPORT WILL BE MADE TO EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF BAR ASSOCIATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 13.—Court-martial theories based on experiences ranging from that of the private in France to the City Prosecutor of Manila, P. I., were heard today at the last open session of the committee which is investigating military justice for the American Bar Association. Suggestions were as varied as the experiences of the witnesses, but all seemed agreed that trained law officers should be available as counsel for accused men.

After the hearings the committee, through Chairman S. S. Gregory of Chicago, announced there would be several executive sessions while he and his associates were preparing their reports. This report, he said, would be made to the Executive Committee of the Bar Association, but he hoped all the evidence collected by the committee here and in the East would be made available for Congressional use by being printed as a public document.

Maj. Orville O. Taylor, Jr., assistant Judge-Advocate of the Eighty-sixth Division both at Camp Grant and abroad, and who later held the same post for the District fo Paris, started the day's proceedings by unqualified indorsement of the present system. He said his experience with Regular Army officers had convinced him that trained line officers were superior to legally-minded men as dispensers of military justice because they understood the men better.

Charles E. Dougherty, a private in the Headquarters Company of the First Army, thought only officers trained in military law should be detailed to summary courts and that company commanders should send fewer cases to those courts.

John E. Hughes, who claimed a double viewpoint as private and later as commissioned officer in the aviation section, said penalties for given offenses should be definite, within reasonable limits, instead of being "such punishment as the court-martial may direct."

NO MORE OFFICERS TO BE SENT ACROSS SEAS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 13. — No more American officers will be sent overseas after June 20 and those that are being detailed now will only be over for sixty or ninety days unless they are specifically assigned to relieve some of the officers who have been over for a long time.

None of the officers going over now will be allowed to take their wives with them for the reason the stay is to be brief and the recent arrangement to permit wives of officers to go abroad was solely for the benefit of officers who have been abroad for some time.

All such passports provide that the holder will not apply for transportation back to the United States for six months.

ANGELES TALKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HEADQUARTERS OF GEN. FELIPE ANGELES (Mexico) June 13.—Gen. Felipe Angeles, commander of the rebel forces in the vicinity of Juarez, granted a four-hour interview to a correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon.

Gen. Angeles is in the best of spirits and says he is confident of his cause. The forces of Gen. Angeles are well equipped, his cavalry horses are the best seen below the border and equal those of American cavalry.

Gen. Angeles is well supplied with funds and states he is paying for everything he obtaing from the ranch folk.

The most surprising thing is his men—they are not the ordinary run of revolutionists; they are big and strong and when some were asked about Juarez, they smiled and said:

"We can take Juarez in three hours."

TROOPS WELL ARMED.

Gen. Angeles's headquarters are in an old house situated on a lane off the main road about thirteen miles southeast of Juarez.

To reach his headquarters is a difficult task because his men appear every few yards. Some of his forces are armed with as many as three guns and many cartridge belts, filled to capacity with shells.

When Gen. Angeles was asked what he intended to do about Juarez, he said:

"I do not know whether to take the city or not. If I told you, that would be military information and of course, I have nothing further to say about Juarez."

Speaking of his nearness to the port city and conditions in all Mexico, Gen. Angeles said:

"For my part," and here he laid his hand on his heart in some agitation, "I have no aspirations; I have no desire or wish to be the big man in Mexico. I have no desire to be heralded as the redeemer of my country which has been torn and bleeding for nine years. The only ambition I have is to aid and assist those other leaders with me in redeeming my country. The sufferings of my countrymen has been intense these many years, in re-establishing the respect of other countries we had once before.

"How many men have I," he repeated, when asked by the correspondent, and answered, "I have a small command here."

"Gen. Villa is to the south and his troops number the largest," Gen. Angeles continued. "Which way he is moving, his exact location, however, is military information and of course not for publication. Gen. Villa, who has been the mainstay in the revolutionary movement, has been charged with many things of which he is innocent. I know him so well and I know that things attributed to him were caused by others with ulterior purposes.

"Chihuahua City is cut off from Juarez. The Carranza government has 2000 men at or near Nogales, Sonora, which they cannot move."

At this point the general stopped for a moment in his interview and there was a mischievous twinkle around his eyes.

"General, was it not for the best that those 2000 men at Nogales were not permitted to move through American territory?"

In answering he said:

"Well, there was only one American in Parral when I took the city. He is still there and in good health.

"I have plenty of money and look around at my men. Are they not good ones? We pay for everything we get. We are not robbing anybody; the ranch folk in the valley are getting paid for everything we obtain."

When asked regarding Gen. Villa, Gen. Angeles said:

VILLA NEVER WOUNDED.

"He is very well."

"And how is that old wound in his knee, general?" he was asked.

Gen. Angeles laughed and said:

"The fact of the matter is that Gen. Villa never had such a wound. When Gen. Pershing was in Mexico after him, it was told over and over how Gen. Villa was wounded in the knee and his men carried him, drove him in an old and how a physician, alleged to have been captured by Gen. Villa, was told he must either save the leg or die. That is all nonsense. Gen. Villa never received any wound after the Columbus raid. The general's legs are like they always were, perfectly all right."

Asked if he would authorize the Associated Press to disclose that he and Gens. Hofquin, Ramon Vega and Martin Lopez were in the vicinity of Juarez, Gen. Angeles replied:

"Yes. You can say that I am here; that is all I want to say about military affairs."

"But the immediate future, general?"

"I do not wish to discuss any military affairs arranged for the future, but time will tell."

Speaking of Martin Lopez, the general said:

"Martin is a youngster, well educated, and the most humiliating thing to me is the fact that he has been charged, like Gen. Villa, with crimes and depredations he never had anything to do with. He is a model boy and those who know him best know that his whole heart and soul is in this revolution for the establishment of a democracy in Mexico; to end the sufferings of the Mexican poor and to pull down those usurpers who have caused this trouble to Mexico so long.

"The men of our revolution know what they are fighting for. They will never give up until they win a victory for the common people, advocated so strenuously by President Wilson, which sent so many Americans and American resources to Europe in their fight for equality, democracy and the safeguarding of all institutions."

WRECK KILLS 200 FEDERALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) June 13.—Two hundred Mexican government troops were killed or injured when the train on which they were traveling to Chihuahua was wrecked Wednesday by sinking of the track north of Aguas Callentes, according to Mexico City dispatches to El Pervenor at Monterey and forwarded here today. The troops were under Gen. Benteria Luviano.

CONSUL ISSUES STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, June 13.—Andres Garcia, Consul for the Mexican government in El Paso, today made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"Stories of fighting in the neighborhood of Juarez are false. There has been no engagement, big or little, and I know that up to last night no force of rebels of any consequence has been within thirty miles of Juarez. Scouting parties are out now and as soon as they return we shall know more about the whereabouts of any Villista force that may be south of the city across the river. In any case there is no expectation of an immediate attack.

"My information is that between 1400 and 1600 Villistas were concentrated at Villa Ahumada several days ago, but whether they have moved to the north, I do not know today. There has been no fighting."

The Twenty-fourth Infantry, consisting of 1075 men, arrived in El Paso from Columbus, N. M., last night under command of Col. Arthur G. Hadsall. This leaves one entire battalion of infantry at Columbus.

Cabell, it was pointed out, requires no authority from the department to transfer regiments or other units to points of danger.

WILLARD IS IN FINE CONDITION

ing, shadow sparring and the morning road work. They're just waiting for June 20 at Maumee Bay. That is the date Dempsey is to start his toughest grinding. Jack Kearns said the boxing layoff was beneficial rather than harmful for Dempsey.

"It's a funny thing, but do you know I think that accident to Jack happened just for our benefit. We didn't think so when it happened, but that wound will be well healed and not likely to reopen when the real stuff begins, on June 20."

Rickard cannot see any possibility of anything happening to break up the battle schedule.

Rickard feels certain that the army, navy and civilian boxing board, of which Anthony Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia is president, will take control of the championship bout, and name the referee and other officials. The A.N. and C. board held a meeting in New York today to reach a decision on the invitation.

RING IS REDUCED.

Willard and Dempsey will meet in a twenty-foot ring, instead of the regulation twenty-four-foot inclosure, it was announced by Tex Rickard, promoter, tonight, after he had obtained the consent of both men. Rickard said reducing the size of the ring will enable him to save 400 square feet at the ringside to install additional press seats, the demand for which has exceeded all expectations.

"You can make it fifteen feet square for all I care," was Dempsey's reply to Rickard's proposal.

When Willard heard of the challenger's remark, he said: "It does not make any difference to me what size you make the ring. The smaller it is the harder it will be for Dempsey to get away from me."

OPINIONS AT VARIANCE.

With the heavyweight championship contest set for decision three weeks from today, July 4, sporting authorities on the battleground today are frankly at a loss to select their favorite.

All are agreed that probably no heavyweight championship contest since the memorable battle between James J. Corbett and John L. Sullivan, has created such a variance of opinion.

Sentiment seems to change every day. Willard, after an impressive workout, may become the favorite one day; but the next may find sentiment switching to his youthful challenger.

REFEREE NOT NAMED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—The board of boxing control did not name a referee for the Willard-Dempsey bout at its meeting here today. Instead, a list of referees, who, in the opinion of the board, possess the requisite qualifications, was prepared and will be submitted to the principals of the July 4 bout. A selection will be made from the men who are agreeable to the pugilists.

Considerable mystery was thrown about the conference, the secretary of the board refusing to divulge the place of meeting, members present or the names of the prospective referees considered.

DICTATORSHIP TALK AMUSING TO NOSKE.

GERMAN WAR MINISTER, HOWEVER, VIEWS WITH ALARM EASTERN SITUATION.

BY GEORGE RENWICK.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WEIMAR, June 10.—(Delayed.) It is good, and necessary at times, to get away from the nightmare—for such it still is—of Berlin, with all its grim memories of Prussianism and militarism, to get away from the nouveau riche among the German cities to such places as Weimar, the fine old picturesque town of Goether, Schiller, Liszt, Herder and Wieland, lying, hawthorne and lilac-decked, in the green heart of Germany; and, if Germany is to have any solid grounds for hope, she too, must turn from the Berlin spirit which has blasted everything, back to the Weimar spirit, which invigorates and inspires anew.

That the National Assembly, save one one occasion, met on this classic ground is a sign of turning away from the tradition of blood and iron, with which Berlin is intimately associated.

The Majority Socialist party, too, has chosen Weimar for the place of meeting of its first annual conference under the new regime. It was a well-dressed assembly represening 1,250,000 Socialists which gathered in the National Theater here this afternoon. Today's business was almost entirely of a formal nature, but signs were not wanting that storms might develop during the next sitting.

In conversation today with Noske, Minister of Defense, he told me he merely laughed at all the talk of a military dictatorship and of a revival of militarism.

"Do you think," he asked, "that the soldiers will fight to restore the Kaiser to the throne, or to make a dictator out of Ludendorff or—this with a smile—even me? At first some officers did try to use the army for their own purposes, but the men have now to be handled otherwise than was the case before the revolution.

"I make a point of going about and addressing the army on political questions. In the presence of the officers I try to make it a Socialist army, so that it will never be used again against the Socialist. I think the results of this have been good."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITY CAUSES RED THREAT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—A circular printed in red and threatening him with "extermination" for his part in the Boy Scouts membership drive here, was received by Gavin McNab, a prominent attorney here, today. Associate Justice W. W. Morrow of the United States Circuit Court, also identified with the campaign, was said to have received a copy. The circular accused McNab of recruiting the boys as future soldiers "to protect the flag-flaunting financiers."

WEIMAR, Thursday, June 12.—Resolutions expressing indignation at the "peace of violence," which makes Germany's future "impossible," were adopted by the Majority Socialist party at its convention here today. The resolutions declare that the peace terms are not in conformity with President Wilson's fourteen points.

International Socialists are called upon by the party to protest against what is characterized as "the most unheard of peace of modern history."

G.O.P. TO SAVE LEAGUE PACT.

Senators present gave conflicting views as to method of procedure, but agreed it must be shaped largely by developments.

Senator Hitchcock said no filibuster would be resorted to and that there would be no serious opposition to bringing the measure to a vote. He predicted every Democrat except Senator Reed of Missouri would be against it and that they would be joined by about eight Republicans, giving a safe majority to vote it down.

Other Senators at the conference made clear their intention to fight the resolution at every step.

Supporters of the measure have contended if more than one-third of the Senate membership goes on record in favor the result will be a warning that the treaty as now framed cannot secure the necessary two-thirds when presented for ratification. If a vote is blocked, it would be no surprise if an effort were made to accomplish this purpose through a round robin.

The first fight over the resolution is expected to center about the section stricken out in committee which would have declared it a policy of the American government that it should co-operate in removing any future menace to the peace of Europe.

Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, cast the deciding vote on this question in committee, but reserved the right to support the provision in the Senate. Opponents of the resolution generally are expected to favor the section's restoration with the hope of weakening the resolution.

The measure's supporters, however, predict that the European section will not be restored. Even if it were, they say, the resolution, because of its other features, still would have the support of Senators Borah, Republican, of Idaho, and Johnson, Republican, of California, who led the fight to amend in committee, and of others who are opposed to any participation in European affairs.

Debate is expected to begin Tuesday and, according to Senator Hitchcock, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, next in rank to Senator Lodge on the Foreign Relations Committee, will make the first address for opponents.

Those attending today's Democratic conference were Hitchcock, Williams of Mississippi, Smith of Arizona, Walsh, Montana; Pitman, Nevada; Chamberlain, Oregon; King, Utah, and Thomas, Colorado.

HOUSE PASSES ARMY BILL OF $718,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Without a record vote the House today passed and sent to the Senate the 1920 army appropriation bill carrying a total of $718,000,000 and providing for a temporary army of 300,000 men. The original measure recommended by the War Department carried $1,250,000,000.

As finally passed the bill prohibits the War Department from using any new or unexpired appropriation for the purchase of lands for army camps or cantonments.

POSTAL BRANDS STRIKE CAUSELESS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Postal Telegraph Company has entered into no negotiations whatever with its striking operators and has received no communication from them at any time except through the public press, it was stated here today by Edward Reynolds, general manager of the Postal system. Mr. Reynolds added that the company looked on the strike as virtually at an end.

Mr. Reynolds said the company had virtually a normal force of operators and that reports from other cities showed many men coming back to work. The report that officials of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America had submitted to the Postal Telegraph Company conditions upon which an agreement could be based was attributed by Mr. Reynolds to the fact that "Postal operators in the union are bringing pressure to bear on the union leaders to call off the strike."

"No principle is involved in this strike," he continued, "and the men are becoming restless. We are informed they are coming back even at strike strongholds like Birmingham, Ala., and we received a report this afternoon that the local at Detroit had voted to call the strike off.

"While we have had no negotiations with the men and are not urging them to come back, we are willing to take them back without prejudice and without considering their continuity of service interrupted if they return within a reasonable time."

Secret Meeting in Berlin in Favor of Civil War.

Scheideman Says no Compromise with Soviets.

Bavarians Offer Reward for Escaped Communist.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Thursday, June 12.—A secret session of the Citizens' Council of Greater Berlin held on Wednesday declared in favor of a citizens' strike, according to the independent Socialist newspaper Die Freiheit. The attendance includes a number of leading manufacturers, merchants and professional men, Hald Col. Reinhardt, the Prussian Minister of War.

The chairman of the meeting is quoted as declaring that a strike was necessary because the present government was incapable of redeeming Germany from chaos.

It was planned, according to the newspaper, to have airplanes distribute leaflets announcing when the strike would begin.

All the food industries, including the bakeries, would cease work, according to the plan, this leading to civil war, which it was held, would help the bourgeoisie attain political power.

ATTACKS SOVIET PLAN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ZURICH, Switzerland, June 12.—Speaking at the majority Socialist convention at Weimar, Philipp Scheidemann, the German Minister-President, attacked the partisans of the "new revolution" whose object was to substitute soviets for the present government. He declared he would never make a compromise on a question like this, as it was a question of principle where all compromise was impossible.

BERLIN, Thursday, June 12.—The position of the German Cabinet has been materially strengthened as a result of the speeches of Gustav Noske and Philipp Scheidemann at the Weimar convention of the majority Socialist party, according to the view of the non-Socialist press. Opposition to the members of the Cabinet in their own party seems to have been overcome.

STRIKERS WALK OUT, THEN WALK IN AGAIN.

WIREMEN ARE RETURNING TO WORK, POSTAL REPORTS, AND END IS NEAR.

That the backbone of the wire strike was broken yesterday was indicated by the activity in the local offices, as well as by hopeful reports from eastern cities, where the strikers were said to be returning to work.

Frank S. Fell, local manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, stated yesterday that Detroit telegraphed him, shortly after noon, that all the strikers who walked out of the Postal office there, Monday, walked in again yesterday and went to work.

Word was received from Chicago by local officials of the Western Union Telegraph Company that forty operators who had been on strike in the Windy City had returned to work and that others were drifting back to work in cities all over the Middle West. Indianapolis reported a large number of striking operators back on the job.

Manager Fell, of the Postal, declared last night that he had been able to keep a fair volume of business going all day, working three wires to Chicago and New York, and that he was able to reopen three local branch offices during the day. He expects to reopen all the others today.

JAZZ PHONE GIRLS INTO LABOR UNION.

AGITATORS BEGUILE MANY OPERATORS INTO AIDING STRIKE MOVEMENT.

Three or four hundred telephone girls congregated at Symphony Hall on Hill street last night and joined the operators' union to the merry measures of jazz time.

The pass word was "Carranza," and a lot of girls who stood at he door complaining that the didn't get enough money to dress themselves decently, went in and signed their names to applications, not realising that, once in the union, considerable of their weekly pay will go hereafter to support loud-mouthed and high-salaried organizers, who are allowed $45 a week for talking and $15 a day for expenses.

They were a good-looking bunch of girls, apparently without a leader, they were willing to follow, for they dashed in and out of the hall, took their applications out on the street and held them up against buildings while filling them out, and from time to time they hopped upon the stage, hit the old grand piano a knockout wallop, and chorused "Come on, Puppah!" and "Honey, Honey, Honey, Hold Me Tight."

The girls say that the electrical workers last Monday night voted a strike of all telephone employees to become effective Monday morning at 7 o'clock. The Southern California Telephone Company has about 1500 switchboard operators. They draw, as an average, $2.50 a day, they say, and they are planning to strike for $4 per day and recognition of their union.

STANFORD BEGINS ITS COMMENCEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 13.—Class day exercises marked the beginning of commencement week at Stanford University today. The exercises opened with a service in the memorial chapel, which was followed by the dedication of the 1919 class plate and a reception to the students by President and Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur. A promenade concert was the feature tonight.

A big pageant, "Service," will be featured on the track oval tomorrow, designed to show in allegorical form the growth of the university.

Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the memorial church by Bishop Matt C. Hughes of the Methodist church. In part the service will memorialize the ten members of the graduating class who lost their lives during the war.

TELLS WOMEN UPSET AND REBUILD WORLD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AMES (Iowa) June 13.—"Now that women have the ballot they should upset the world and build it over according to their own ideas," E. A. Ross, well-known educator and sociologist of the University of Wisconsin, tonight told the 100 delegates to the Iowa convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Women are the equal of men in brains, but far behind in thinking," he continued. "We are living in a man-made world despite woman suffrage and emancipation, for women contribute little to the ideas of the world. Now that they have the ballot, women should pluck up their courage and run the world for they are much safer to trust with the world's problems than men."

WARNS AGAINST MOONEY STRIKE.

Secretary Wilson Addresses Federation of Labor.

Resolution Offered to Recognize Soviet Russia.

Government Ownership Also Among Resolutions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) June 13.—Secretary of Labor Wilson, addressing the convention of the American Federation of Labor today, counseled organized labor not to participate in the proposed national strike for the liberation of Thomas Mooney, convicted of complicity in the San Francisco bomb plot. He said the government was investigating the evidence in the case in connection with the movement for a new trial for Mooney, and that working men could not properly constitute themselves a jury to try him.

Secretary Wilson also referred to the "Bolshevists of the United States" who, he said, were allied with the I.W.W. and for whom the working men of America had no sympathy whatever when they understood the Bolshevist creed. Bolshevism, the Secretary said, essentially created obligatory labor, or virtual slavery; and all workingmen had been fighting against slavery since the day of Moses.

RESOLUTION FAVORS SOVIET.

Resolutions urging recognition of the soviet government of Russia and the lifting of the blockade against that part of the country under its control were among 200 submitted by delegates attending the convention of the American Federation of Labor here, texts of which were made public today. Publication of the resolution concerning soviet Russia aroused intense interest among the delegates and was more discussed than any other. Indications were that when it comes up for discussion on the floor it is likely to precipitate a bitter controversy.

The resolution relating to Russia, which was adopted by the Seattle organization, calls upon Congress immediately to order troops out of Russia and recognize the soviet government and would require the American Federation of Labor to conduct a ballot of all local unions to "ascertain the sentiment" of the membership upon the question of recognition of the Bolshevists. The result, it is declared "would serve as a guide to the conduct of all labor officials and unionists generally."

OTHER RESOLUTIONS.

The independence of Ireland, a six-hour working day, immediate repeal of the espionage law, the electoral franchise for the citizens of Washington, D. C., regulation of the meat packing industry, action by Congress to lower the cost of living, condemnation of introduction into their plants by steel companies and other big industries of the "Rockefeller plan" of collective bargaining and a severe condemnation of the "Prussianistic, imperialistic" Postmaster-General, are suggested in some of the other important resolutions.

Restriction of immigration, further action by organized labor to assist in securing the release from jail of Thomas Mooney, government ownership of railroads according to the plan fostered by the railroad brotherhoods, proper enforcement of the seamen's act, increase in the salary of President Gompers to $10,000 a year, approval of Secretary Lane's project to furnish land for soldiers and sailors, a protest against the Emergency Fleet Corporation charging excessive rents for housing facilities furnished by it, also were submitted as deserving the approval of organized labor as a body.

TO CHANGE LABOR DAY.

Several resolutions propose the changing of Labor Day to May 1.

A resolution severely condemning the American Tobacco Company for alleged practices affecting cigar makers was adopted.

The convention voted down a resolution proposing that the federation approve action by State Legislatures in fixing by law a standard minimum wage for workers.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

One of the Colonial Bungalows in Beautiful Walnut Park

In what way do the bungalows in Walnut Park differ from other bungalows built to sell?

First—Walnut Park bungalows are distinct individual designs. There are practically no bungalows of even similar design in Walnut Park. This feature is one which to the best of our knowledge cannot be duplicated in any other moderately priced residence tract. The home that you buy is not like your neighbor's—not merely one of a series with no individual character of its own.

Second—The interior finishing of Walnut Park bungalows — say of $3000 or $3500—is of a type seldom found in bungalows under $5000 to $6000. We have devoted particular attention to this detail of the construction—employing the talent of some of the foremost decorators in the West. Practically all of the bungalows are papered in beautiful harmonious shades, with built-in effects and open fireplaces that are entirely out of the ordinary.

Third—By paying for the advice of real talent in home arrangement and interior finishing we are able to effect a certain air of hominess—able to embody many conveniences and unique effects at no extra cost to the purchaser. Walnut Park bungalows are built with careful thought— not just "thrown together" with the idea of finishing them quickly for immediate sale.

Fourth—The beautiful charm of these quaint colonial bungalows is enhanced by the luxury of the big shade trees, the thousands of flowers, shrubs and climbing vines and the wide stretches of green lawn for which Walnut Park is noted.

There is every city convenience but no city taxes. Served by 5-cent yellow car line and either on or close to Long Beach Boulevard. The highest class of residential improvements. Full-bearing walnut trees on property (trees now in crop. We estimate crop this year will pay taxes on property for two years.) Large tree-covered homesites for as little as $700. Beautiful colonial bungalow homes for $2500, $2750, $3000 and $3500 or more. Small first payment and monthly terms like rent if you wish.

Take Huntington Park car on Main Street going south and get off at Walnut Park (5-cent fare)—or drive south to Slauson Ave., East to Long Beach Blvd., then south a few blocks to Walnut Park tract office. Ask for Mr. Wilson. For further information see

TWO FLYERS ARE KILLED IN FALL.

Former Navy Instructor Preparing to Fly Home.

Companion in Death Descent from Mather Field.

Stanford Man Hits Haystack and Breaks Plane.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 13.—In full view of thousands at the Westmoreland Flying Field, near here, late today, an airplane fell, with W. B. Hutchenson, a rancher, living near Walla Walla, Wash., and Sergt. John Milkowski of the Mather Field army flying force. Both were killed.

Hutchenson had bought the plane in California, following his discharge from service as a navy flying instructor. He had said he would start today or tomorrow on a flight to his home.

Witnesses of the accident said Hutchenson had attempted a nose dive while too near the earth.

An eyewitness said the plane had been doing some stunts and was descending to the landing field when it apparently got out of control and came to the earth violently, striking a bank and being smashed badly. The two occupants were caught under the wreckage.

Hutchenson's companion, who was killed with him, was Sergt. Milkowski, an army aviation corps mechanician. He was not flying under orders, but had gone up with Hutchenson to adjust the plane.

STANFORD FLYER DOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALINAS, June 13.—Capt. H. R. Kelly, army aviator, flying from San Diego to Palo Alto, in an attempt to rise here today flew into a haystack, crippling his airplane. He was the fifth of a party of army aviators, four of whom safely reached Palo Alto for participation in commencement exercises at Stanford University. Capt. Kelly arranged to ship the disabled airplane to San Diego and continued to Palo Alto by train.

FRESNO, June 13.—One of the San Diego-to-Stanford aviators, using government planes, passed over Fresno early this afternoon en route from Tulare to Palo Alto, where the flyers will attend the annual commencement exercises at Stanford University. Four of the five aviators left Fresno yesterday for Palo Alto. The birdman who passed over Fresno today was forced to come down near Tulare on account of engine trouble. He announced before leaving Tulare that he planned to put on full speed in an attempt to make up the lost time between Fresno and Palo Alto this afternoon.

BARONESS ROCHE HAS RECORD.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Thursday, June 12.—Announcement is made that Baroness de la Roche, a widely-known French aviatrix, driving the small biplane in which the late Jules Vedrines landed on the roof of a department store here last January, has reached an altitude of 15,700 feet. Reports of her flight have been checked by a commission appointed by the French Aero Club and she is given the record for height attained by women flyers. The level she reached is over a thousand feet higher than the best record made by Ruth Law, who has heretofore held the women's altitude title.

SPOKANE BUILDS PLANE.

SAYS ASYLUM INMATE IS FROZEN TO DEATH.

BOARD OF INQUIRY LISTENS TO CHARGES MADE BY FORMER PATIENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, June 13.—Charges that G. Franchione, a patient, was left in a cold pack of wet blankets for forty-eight hours and was taken out dead on May 14, 1918, in ward No. 10, were made today by Dr. Frederick M. Webster, on the stand in the Agnew board of managers' investigation into the conduct of the institution by Dr. Leonard Stocking. Webster said that Franchione had been put in the pack as punishment for climbing out of the window.

Dr. Webster's release on a writ of habeas corpus after a jury trial brought on the inquiry. He was originally committed from San Quentin prison after a trial in San Francisco, where he formerly practiced, on a charge of complicity in passing a bad check.

Webster also cited the case of one Van Rensellier, who is alleged to have been severely injured by being kicked in the abdomen by an attendant named Zahn. The punishment is claimed to have been for rolling a cigarette against a non-smoking rule.

Attendants of ward No. 10 denied the charges of Webster and said that he was an agitator, who on several occasions had given other patients money and advised them to escape. Webster on cross-examination said he had seen neither of the men he charged had been killed, but patients had told him of their deaths.

Records of the hospital regarding deaths will be introduced by the hospital staff tomorrow in rebuttal.

LUMBER PRICES UP $5.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, June 13.—Lumber prices are up $4 to $5 per 1000 feet, according to quotations made by representative fir manufacturers, it was learned today. The advance on all yard stocks was said to be $5, and on timber $5. At this rate the lumber market would be $8 to $13 a thousand feet higher than during February and March, and prices would be double those of 1914. It is also pointed out that lumber prices generally show 50 to 60 per cent. advance over the five-year average prevailing prior to the war.

RAILROAD MEN IN CANADA OUT.

Winnipeg Union Trainmen, Switchmen on Strike.

Action is Taken in Defiance of Their Officials.

Brotherhood Executives Claim Obligations Broken.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTREAL, June 13.—Negotiations undertaken by the Canadian Railway War Board with the representatives here of Division No. 4 of the railway shopmen of America in an attempt to prevent 30,000 men from striking for higher wages were reported today to have failed.

STRIKE UNAUTHORIZED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WINNIPEG, June 13.—A formal statement issued late today by executive officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen declared that the action of the Winnipeg locals in voting to join the sympathetic strike tonight, "was absolutely unauthorized."

Officials of the Winnipeg Switchmen's and Trainmen's locals announced this afternoon that they had voted to go on strike at 6 o'clock tonight. It is believed that the action of the trainmen will severely cripple freight service to and from Winnipeg and may handicap passenger transportation.

STATEMENT BY EXECUTIVES.

The statement of the brotherhood executives follows:

"We are officially advised that meetings of trainmen and firemen last night adopted a resolution in substance providing and contending that the city policemen must be at once returned to duty on the streets of Winnipeg and that the principle of 'collective bargaining' must be recognized; also a living wage conceded to strikers and all strikers reinstated without discrimination. The resolution further provided that in the event that the above settlement of the strike is not made effective at once the members of the Trainmen's and Firemen's unions would withdraw from service, in a sympathetic strike, at 6 o'clock p.m. (Winnipeg time) or 7 o'clock American standard time today.

"The organizations referred to do not and will not under any circumstances countenance a sympathetic strike and the action taken by members of these organizations at the meeting of last evening, in that respect, was absolutely unauthorized and illegal. The laws of the respective organizations will be upheld by every proper means at the disposal of the undersigned officers and the membership of the organization generally. Every effort will be made by the organizations to maintain proper contract obligations with the respective railroad companies, and on account of lack of time the members of the organizations are given the foregoing information through the press."

WARNINGS DISREGARDED.

The statement was signed by George K. Wark, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and James Murdock, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Despite previous warnings that strike action without permission from the brotherhoods would not be countenanced, the Winnipeg locals last night voted to join the sympathetic strike, unless certain demands of the local unions involved in the industrial deadlock were met immediately.

The Mediation Committee of the railway brotherhoods was in conference again with metal trades employers today.

Vigorous action is being taken by the police department against leaders and participants in street fighting and it is believed the police have in S. Steinberg one of those who assaulted Sergt. F. G. Coppins, Victoria Cross man. Several other alleged leaders in the rioting Tuesday, are under arrest.

STRIKE IS SYMPATHETIC.

For more than two weeks Winnipeg railroad men have been split into two factions, as a result of the local strike trouble.

Winnipeg's police force was dismissed because the policemen refused to sign, without arbitration, a pledge that they would not participate in sympathetic strikes. This action came at the same time that executives of the railroad brotherhoods announced they had not been successful in attempting to mediate the controversy over collective bargaining between the metal trades council and the industrial employers.

Union leaders announced this morning that Winnipeg firemen and enginemen employed on the three railways entering the city have voted to join the general sympathetic strikes unless the city reinstates its police which was dismissed on Monday.

Settlement of the Winnipeg strike this week was intimated this afternoon by Mayor Gray. When asked if the latest conciliation movement was succeeding, he said: I may have big news for you within twenty-four hours." Federal as well as provincial officials are discussing a new plan of mediation.

No attempt has been made to operate street cars.

SHOPMEN'S STRIKE ENDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Railroad Administration officials announced late today that the strike of the shopmen of the Norfolk and Western Railroad had been ended as a result of the conference with American Federation of Labor officials at Bluefields, W. Va. The men voted to return to work Monday, it was stated.

PORTSMOUTH (O.) June 13.—According to a statement by local Norfolk and Western officials here this afternoon, the strike on the Norfolk and Western Railroad involving 10,000 men, has been settled.

KAWAMURA NAMED AS RULER OF KOREA.

GEN. HASEKAWA RESIGNS AT OUTBREAK OF INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Gen. Kawamura, prominent Japanese military leader, has been appointed to succeed Gov.-Gen. Hasekawa as ruler of Korea, according to a cabled announcement today in the Japanese "American," a Japanese daily newspaper of this city. Gen. Hasekawa tendered his resignation at the outbreak of the Korean independence movement, the announcement said.

The Japanese administration in Korea passed new laws under which to punish native revolutionists because the existing laws could not reach the alleged offenders, according to charges made here today by the Korean National Association, which it said were based on recent information from Korea. A law providing ten-year terms for peaceful revolutionists became effective April 15, it was charged.

A policy of isolation for Korea in order that the revolution may be "smothered" was charged by the association. This will be ineffective, according to the association because the natives within Korea are acting on their own initiative.

WANTS DEFINITION OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE

HONDURANS DEMAND IT BE EXPLAINED IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Demand that the Monroe Doctrine be defined in the covenant of the League of Nations, since no nation of the world has ever expressly accepted the doctrine, and that the former German Emperor be tried by his own countrymen, is made in a memorandum, submitted to the Peace Conference by Gen. Policarpo Bonilla, head of the Honduran delegation to the Paris conference.

"The Monroe Doctrine," the memorandum made public here today, says, "directly affects the Latin-American republics. It never has been embodied in any international document nor has it been expressly accepted by any of the nations of the Old or New Worlds. It has furthermore been variously defined and applied by Presidents and other statesmen of the United States, and for these reasons it is indispensable that in the peace treaty about to be signed it shall be written into international law.

"If this is done it will not be an obstacle to the union of the Latin-American countries to form a confederacy and thus realize the dream of Bolivar."

Regarding the trial of the Kaiser, the memorandum says:

"The Honduran delegation differs with the eminent lawyers who have drafted the provisions regarding the responsibilities, for the war. It considers the trial of the Kaiser not according to legal principles, there being no international law or precedent for such a trial. The executive of any country is not responsible to anyone except his own people. The only proper course would be to embody in the treaty an article to compel the German government to try all German subjects guilty of acts punishable by law, demanding at the same time certain guarantees as to the justice of the sentence. It is probable that this opinion will not be pleasing to this generation, but after the heat of the moment is passed the people will realize that it is based on the greatest guarantees of social institutions, which is respect for the law."

FAIR CASE WITNESSS SAYS BRIBERY TRIED.

SWEARS HE WAS HARASSED TO KEEP HIM FROM MAKING DEPOSITION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—An affidavit alleging that "extreme measures" were being threatened in order to prevent taking the deposition of William A. Dingee, a witness in the reopened $22,000,000 James G. Fair will contest, was filed late today by attorneys for Wesley E. Crother, a Fair heir who instituted the contest.

Dingee had been "followed and harassed" and attempted bribery had been practiced on him to keep him from making the deposition, the affidavit charged.

In a hearing today the court held that a deposition might be secured from Dingee but that none was necessary from Frank A. Losh, who was Dingee's bookkeeper, and whose statement also was desired by plaintiff. Both were declared to have been interested in an alleged transaction whereby Judge Frederick W. Henshaw as Justice of the Supreme Court, accepted a bribe of $410,000, according to charges made by Crothers, to influence his opinion in the Fair suit.

Plaintiff's attorneys later secured a deposition from Losh saying they "did not wish to be disrespectful to the court, but that the action was necessary."

VILLA REPORTED TO BE MARRIED AGAIN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, June 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Francisco Villa, the bandit leader, has been married again, according to a story by a traveler to the newspaper Excelsior of this city. The traveler claims to have been present at the ceremony which he says was performed at Valle de Allende, near Parral, Chihuahua.

Villa is said to have appeared suddenly one day in the village and ordered all the inhabitants out for a fiesta. The marriage, according to the traveler, was performed by a former judge. Afterward there was a feast and a dance at which Villa introduced his bride, a girl of twenty years, and delivered a speech.

[Mrs. Juanita Torres Villa, who lived for a time in Los Angeles, has claimed to be the only lawful wife of Francisco Villa.]

What's the Message?

The mail-carrier delivers a bagful of messages of weddings and deaths, of goings and comings; messages of joy and sorrow, of vital interest or of no interest whatever. The great baseball number and the flimsy trade circular may go to the same home.

So the advertising columns of magazines and papers carry messages of great interest, little interest or perhaps of no interest at all.

The postman faithfully delivers the messages with which he is entrusted. So also the publication delivers the messages they carry.

But what of the message itself?

Will it command attention?

Is it interesting reading?

Can it be implicitly believed?

Will it "get action"?

Some people find advertising more interesting than the editorial text.

There are men who can make advertising interesting and productive.

Interest is quickened in a period of prosperity.

SANTA ANA, June 13.—Preliminary steps toward organization of the "Service Men's Association of Orange County," to embrace soldiers, sailors, and marines honorably discharged or furloughed to the reserve, were taken at a meeting in Santa Ana last night. The plan of organization provides for a central county council with local chapters in the several communities of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach and possibly other places later on. The constitution provides that the association shall be non-partisan and conscientious objectors are forever barred from membership. Water Superintendent Walter Wray favors a sixteen-inch well, and his plan will probably be adopted. A committee of the Council has been appointed to report upon location of the new well and probable cost.

MASS MEETING PROTESTS AGAINST WATER RAISE.

CITIZENS OF SIERRA MADRE APPEAR BEFORE TOWN'S TRUSTEES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SIERRA MADRE, June 13.—A mass meeting of citizens and protestants to an increase in present water rates filled the City Hall last night, appearing before the board of City Trustees at their regular meeting.

Ex-Mayor Louis Dietz acted as spokesman, producing statistics and data bearing on the issue. He was listened to attentively, thanked perfusely by the board for his kindness in instructing them in water problems and the matter then referred to the Water Committee for further consideration.

The tentative raise in the rates has been caused primarily by a shortage of funds in this department. The graduated scale adopted by the city does not work a great hardship on the consumer. It is based on the amount of water used and does not exceed 75 cents for a maximum raise, or 25 cents minimum. The chief objection was based on the ground that the large consumer did not pay any more than the small. Many believe the Board of Trustees, composed of two attorneys, banker, leading merchant and prominent contractor, has studied the problem thoroughly, basing their conclusions after an exhaustive survey of the question.

DAMAGE SUIT IS RESULT OF ELECTION.

MEMBER OF SAN DIEGO CITY DADS ASKS FOR $50,000.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, June 13.—An aftermath of the heated Mayoralty campaign this spring came this afternoon when Councilman Thomas Fisher filed a suit for $50,000 damages against Grant Conrad for slanderous statements.

Conrad, who was candidate for Mayor, is alleged in the complaint to have said in a public meeting March 24, in the Illusion Theater, that the City Council of San Diego were "all crooks," were "a bunch of crooks" and "I have the proof right in my pocket."

Fisher claims that these statements included him as he was a member of the City Council and that Conrad "willfully, maliciously and falsely" made these statements before an audience of 600 people.

The suit was filed by the firm of Morganstern & Dorn for Fisher. It is said that other similar suits may follow.

The other City Trustees at the time were Walter Moore, Virgil Bruschi, James Daugherty and W. F. Palmer.

Conrad was Mayor of the city some years ago and was later Assemblyman from this district for the Progressive party.

CONVENTION CLOSES IN BLAZE OF GLORY.

EAGLES TO STAGE SERIES OF FAREWELL STUNTS AT VENICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, June 13.—As tomorrow is the last day of the State convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the city of Venice is making special effort to make the day's programme a merry one for her visitors. The biggest feature today was the grand ball given in the dance pavilion. Hundreds of dancers attended and enjoyed a programme lasting past the midnight hour. During the dancing a shower of toy balloons bearing the insignia of the Eagles, and raising shouts of delightful approval fell from above.

Later in the evening the pavilion resembled a part of fairyland when the joyous, rollicking crowd began to throw confetti, and when during the lively music a series of many colored lights was thrown on the dancers. Exhibition and "lucky spot" dances were a popular feature of the entertainment and several beautiful prizes were awarded to the Eagles and their visitors.

Early this afternoon Ferullo's band played one of the concerts that have grown so popular with the visitors this week. At 3 o'clock 200 delegates donned bathing suits and contested their aquatic skill in the ocean. Crowds that gathered declared the Eagles "some birds" and conceded they also carry away the honors as fish.

A vaudeville show in the Venice Auditorium early in the evening drew a crowd of visitors, after which another concert by the band was enjoyed at the plaza.

Tomorrow being Flag Day, Venice will send its annual parade of Yama Yama girls to Los Angeles. In the afternoon, little Helen Fox will entertain in the dance pavilion in the dance "Of the Eagles' Dream." There will be a concert and daylight fireworks. In the evening the grand "Mardi Gras" will take place with confetti battles, street dancing, serpentine dancing and a general farewell festival of the Eagles.

TAX INCIDENT CLOSED.

Indebtedness of President Wilson Paid by State Committee.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, June 13.—County Tax Collector C. R. Stibbens is congratulating himself today on closing what he believes to be the last chapter in the interesting story of how President Wilson's delinquent taxes in this county were finally paid.

As a result of the action of the Democratic State Central Committee in paying the $37.21 due on the President's Indio ranch, Mr. Stibbens today returned the check forwarded by George A. Fox, an inmate of the Los Angeles County Jail, reindorsing it to him, and has forwarded a duplicate receipt to Secretary F. Ray Groves of the Democratic State Central Committee.

In a wire received from Groves by the County Tax Collector is the text of Secretary Tumulty's message from Washington, as follows:

"Thanks for your telegram, June 10. Have arranged for Citizens' National Bank, Los Angeles, to pay you $37.21. Please have Fox's money returned to him and send in duplicate receipt.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, June 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Speer, bride and groom of two hours are in the Pasadena Hospital as a result of the automobile in which they were starting on their honeymoon turning turtle near the Green Hotel on Raymond avenue last night at 11 o'clock.

Bauer of the Four Oaks, 1203 Fair Oaks avenue, South Pasadena, the couple left in an inclosed car driven by a chauffeur, for the Beverly Hills Hotel. Close in pursuit of the couple were several machines filled with hilarious young people.

In the confusion of the crowding machines the automobile bearing Mr. and Mrs. Speer skidded against the stone drinking fountain at the corner of Raymond avenue and Vineyard street and turned over. Mrs. Speer when extricated from the wreckage was found to be suffering from a cut on her face and it is said sustained injuries to her hip and breast and will be confined to the hospital for some time. The groom was more fortunate, as he was little injured. Mrs. Speer was formerly Miss Tillie Bauer, prominent in social circles of the south.

BIG OIL GUSHER NEAR SANTA MARIA.

CAT-CANYON WELL PRODUCES FLOW OF 15,000 BARRELS A DAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, June 13.—An oil gusher has been struck in Cat Canyon, near Santa Maria, on the Stanball lease, owned by the Palmer Union Oil Company, at a depth of 2575 feet, following the discharge of twenty-five pounds of explosive. The gusher developed with a rush, carrying out cable and drill and sending a black torrent to a height of sixty feet above the derrick.

The well had originally stopped at 1310 feet and was flowing 250 barrels a day. In an effort to increase the flow it was drilled to 2575 feet and a blast of seventy-five pounds of explosive discharged. This was followed by a twenty-five-pound discharge when the gusher developed.

After eight hours of torrential flow the well was capped and is now pouring it fluid into slump holes and earth reservoirs at the rate of 15,000 barrels a day. This is the first gusher ever developed in Cat Canyon and the only one encountered in the entire Santa Maria fields in the last five years. Oil men believe that a new oil stratum has been tapped and that it extends over the district. Most of the wells will be drilled deeper with a view of penetrating the oil artery.

Trambitas Family has a Pleasant Evening, Both of the Boys Winning Fights with VALLEY AND ALEC WIN.

Jeff Clark and Billy Capelli are Easy for the Northerners.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Jeff Clark, the Joplin Ghost, looking very much like Sam Langford had the Tar Baby been run over by a steam roller, savagely battled his way to defeat last night at Jack Doyle's pavilion at the gloves of Valley Trambitas. The Old Ghost was there with the artful dodger stuff for a spell, but grew tired in the fourth session and soon became a pummeler's delight for Valley. The opening round went to Trambitas by a shade. The Ghost tried everything he knew to induce Valley to drop his guard momentarily so he could shoot across his deadly right, but the white lad was too crafty and kept himself well covered.

Toward the end of the round Trambitas staged a savage rally and stung The Ghost pretty hard with a right to the jaw. Although palpably hurt, Clark gave his opponent a Little Joe sneer, as he turned to go to his corner, that caused a great laugh throughout the house. The second and third rounds were about an up-and-down affair. Once in the beginning of the third, Jeff shot a vicious right toward the jaw which missed the mark by only an inch or so. Had it landed, Trambitas would probably have been numbered with the lilies.

In the final round Jeff showed signs of wobbly underpinning and lurid lines were beginning to settle around his classic forehead. It was then that Valley slashed into him and soon had him sloshing all over the ring. Several times he scored heavily on the chin, on which occasions the colored pug shook like a doddered oak. Just before the gong sounded Valley had The Ghost in a bad way, shooting a right uppercut to the chin that caused Jeff to fall into a clinch to save himself from going to the canvas. As the last session was all Valley's, Referee Donald lost little time in raising Trambitas's hand.

The semiwind-up proved easy pickings for Alex Trambitas, brother of the winner of the main event. He had Billy Obese Capelli for his mark. Billy was as fat as an oyster suffering with the dropsy. No sooner had the lads put up their mitts than a friend of Alex's shouted, "Knock the noodles out of him, Alex," and this Alex immediately started to do. Capelli looked as if a month's sojourn to Billy Muldoon's farm in New York would do him a world of good. He was too slow for the fleet-footed Trambitas and while he tried his utmost to land a right now and then, his efforts proved futile. Trambitas kept pumping in lefts to the nose and rights to the stomach. To Billy's credit it must be said that he never dodged the issue and stood to his guns at all times, but he was simply outboxed all the way and hardly had a chance. The verdict went to Trambitas.

Al McManus and Gene Watson, the Hold-on Kids, shuffled through four fast rounds. It was a give-and-take affair until the last round, when Al began to reach Gene often in the face and body. In the middle of this session, McManus shot a right to Gene's left eye and opened it to a generous flow of carmine. This put a damper on Gene's ambition as he is fearfully averse to having his attractive frontispiece ruffled.

Al, quickly scenting his advantage, bored in and plugged Watson good and plenty until the bell clanged. He won easily over the disfigured Watson, who immediately after the battle was over, beat it on high speed to a beauty doctor. Al probably won this bout by having words of wisdom trickled into his ear between rounds by Barber Stewart, the well-known millionaire tonsorialist. He was ably assisted in his sage advice by Earl Mohan.

Johnny Woodruff, full brother to Wheeser Dell, in the breathing line, took a trimming from Joe Brown. Every time Johnny sought an inhalation the effort sounded like the exhaust valve of a locomotive. It would behoove Johnny to get into better condition before he attempts another bout at the pavilion.

Danny Pascoe, colored, technically knocked out Jimmy Mason in the third round of their setto. He shot a right to the jaw, and as Mason wobbled around the ring ready to drop to the floor, Referee Donald stopped the scrap and gave the decision to Pascoe. This brought Pascoe out of the maiden class at Doyle's. Ted Levine put it on Kid Bebell in the night's opener.

MORNINGSTAR IS FAR IN THE LEAD.

In his match with Walker Cochran, Ora Morningstar, former world's billiard champion, galloped away with the honors, running up 300 points to 158 for his opponent. One of the largest gatherings of billiard enthusiasts that ever attended a match in Los Angeles applauded loudly during the twenty innings of the play. Neither player was at his best and Morningstar was very slow in getting started but his runs of 113, 51, 30, 24 and 24 against Cochran's best of 44 show that the old master was not as bad as he might have been.

PASADENA IS BETTER TEAM.

Shows it in Semi-Final Game at Tournament Park.

Webster, Winning Pitcher, has Fine Strike-out Record.

Also Hits Homer in Eighth with Bases Full.

Pasadena High earned the right to play Fullerton High for the Southern California interscholastic championship in baseball when they defeated the Huntington Park nine by the score of 9 to 2 yesterday afternoon at Tournament Park in a game featured by snappy playing in every department.

Despite the fact that it was Friday, the 13th, Webster, the Pasadena pitcher, extended himself and struck out thirteen men and then brought in three in the eighth with a lusty swat into the bleachers to show that he could pole 'em out as well as strike 'em out. That occurred when the Crown City baseballers were having their last raps and were already four runs to the good. Webster's support was good most of the way through the game, though at first it looked rather wobbly.

Catcher Riddle, the dark-skinned receiver of the Pasadena nine, was right there when it came to whipping the pill around the field, and especially to second. First-sacker Lillis had a bit of trouble trying to locate that bag which he kept searching for all through the contest. As it was his first league game, he did pretty well.

The Huntington Park aggregation staged a good consistent game, but had a bit of bad luck in the last of the seventh, when their backstop, Stout, was spiked at second base trying to steal. He was carried to the training quarters by his teammates and one Lewis took his place for the remaining two innings.

On the Pasadena side, left-fielder Long was the recipient of a sprained ankle along in the sixth. This injury did not necessitate his leaving the game. Altogether enough happened to make the 13th of this month memorable from an unlucky standpoint.

In the second the H.P. bunch started to make runs, but got only one. Priddy knocked a hard fly to right field, where the ball was promptly bobbled, letting him gain first on the error. He immediately stole second, and then did the same for the third sack, and on the overthrow to the base to catch him, cantered across home plate with just half the total runs chalked up for the Huntington Park players.

It was in the third that Pasadena got busy swinging and amassed quite a number of runs. For Pasadena, Kemp started, but was out on a bunt. A hit made by Webster, who swung well and meaningly all through the affair, into the left-field bleachers, netted two bases; singles by Messrs. McNabb, Riddle and Long, followed by Atwill, scored three runs.

In the sixth the Park lads made the second and last runs of the game, Tweedy making the circuit mostly by burglarious means.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Pasadena	0	1	3	0	0	0	3	0	0	—9

FRED CLARKE IS AMONG US.

Fred Clarke, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates and one of the greatest outfielders the game has ever known, arrived here yesterday for a visit with relatives in South Pasadena. For years Clarke, Chance and McGraw were the great triumvirate in the National League, among them winning practically all the pennants for more than a decade. Of these, McGraw alone remains identified with baseball. Clarke and Chance quit baseball for the cows and chickens. Clarke has a big farm near Winfield, Kan., and Chance has a large citrus hacienda at Glendora. It is probable that the two will arrange to get together and live over some of their great battles of the past during Clarke's visit. Clarke won four pennants and defeated Detroit for the world's championship in 1909. He, with Wagner and Leach, formed the "big three" on the Pittsburgh club, and with their passing the Pirates ceased to be great.

Getting Near the Prep Title.

Scenes during the semifinal game at Tournament Park yesterday in which Pasadena eliminated Huntington Park from the running. Above, Robertson of Huntington Park, out at third in the seventh inning, McNabb putting the ball on him. Below, Pitcher Webster of Pasadena, who not only struck out thirteen men, but, among other things, hit a home run in the eighth with the bases full.

FINALISTS WIN EASILY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 13.—Both semifinal matches in the trans-Mississippi golf championship at the St. Louis Country Club today were decided by a large margin, Nelson Whitney of New Orleans defeating James E. Nugent of Kansas City, president of the association, 9 up and 8 to play, and Richard Bockenkamp, a St. Louis public links boy, winning his way to the finals by downing Arthur Bonebrake of Topeka, Kan., 11 to 9.

Bonebrake had been predicted as a finalist, but was stale. The Topekan shot the poorest golf he has exhibited during the week, and was particularly poor in putting. The greens were slower, and he was short many times.

Bockenkamp shot the best golf of the tournament. He had two nines of 38 in the morning for a 76, four over par, and in the afternoon covered the outward half in 35, finishing the one-sided struggle on the twenty-seventh green with a birdie four. Of the twenty-seven holes played, Bockenkamp made 18 in par and two in one under par; Bonebrake managed to hold him even on the first nine by virtue of three pars and two birdies, but on the second nine the St. Louisan won seven holes and halved the other two.

In the afternoon Bockenkamp started with a topped drive and a poor second, his only spill of the day, but recovered for a half in five. His par on the 230-yard twentieth gave him a margin of eight holes and a birdie two on the 171-yard twenty-first, where he pitched dead to the pin, made in 3 up.

BOB WEAVER GETS HOME.

Bob Weaver, who has been the grandpa of amateur athletics in Southern California for such a long time that no one thinks of any form of sport without mentioning his name, returned yesterday from a lengthy visit in the East during which he combined his business as president of the S.P.A.A.U. with that which was made necessary by his position as vice-president and general manager of S. D. Seager Co., local Jordan agents.

During his trip Bob was delighted to learn that the local athletes and athletic authorities had made a profound impression on the Easterners during the recent National Gymnastic Championships and Peter Hoi, for five years winner of the all-around title, took the trouble to write to F. W. Rubien, boss of the National A.A.U. and tell him that the local meet was handled better than any in which he had ever taken part.

Such praise from Hoi is worth a whole lot as he is not much of a hand at throwing bouquets. Weaver also learned that Paul Krempel, the 19-year-old wonder who took a close second in the all-around championship, and J. Duncan Gleason who captured the title in the flying rings, had been practically chosen members of the American team which will go to the Olympic games to be held in 1920 at Antwerp.

Bob returned by way of San Francisco and he completed arrangements there to have five of our best swimmers go north for the Far Western water championships which will take place on July 4 at Neptune Beach. He has not heard from the Far Western track meet, scheduled for Portland, and no local athletes will go up north for that event unless something develops shortly. Bob says he's certainly glad to get home.

ALHAMBRA IS ALL THROUGH.

Fullerton Eliminates Rivals for Prep Title.

Losing Battery Shows Class, but Can't Win.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, June 13.—Alhambra was eliminated from the pennant race for the interscholastic championship of the State here this afternoon when she went down to defeat at the hands of Fullerton High with a score of 6 to 4. Likewise Fullerton was shoved ahead another notch in the race. Fullerton will now meet the winner of a game between Pasadena and Huntington Park to decide the Southern California championship. The winner of that contest will play Oakland High for the State title.

True to predictions the game here was fast and furious. The teams were evenly matched and it was anybody's game until the end. The contest was marked by sensational plays which cropped out now and then from a consistently played contest on both sides. It was no fault of Pitcher Atwood and Catcher Wolford of Alhambra that the game was lost for they did phenomenal work at their posts. However, there were some costly errors over which they had no control. Wolford made a home run during the game. One of the most sensational plays in the game was made by Slaker, center field for Alhambra. A fly came over his head and by a surprisingly swift sprint he managed to catch the ball.

Both teams were backed by big crowds of rooters and the game proved not only one of the fastest, but one of the peppiest games seen here this season as far as the grand stand and bleachers were concerned.

In the first, second and third innings the batters were put away in one, two, three order. In the last of fourth inning Alhambra started the ball rolling with two runs on a hit by Campbell, an infield hit by Sullivan and a sacrifice by Atwood. An error by Third Baseman Travis was responsible for the runs.

In the first half of fifth inning the score was tied when Fullerton secured two runs. L. Schrott hit to center, and P. Schrott walked, both scoring on Hawkins's hit. Neither side scored in the sixth.

In the first half of the seventh Fullerton leaped into the lead with four scores to her credit. Travis hit to left and stole second and third. Then he scored on a bad throw through Campbell. Hawkins was hit by a pitched ball. Goodman singled, scoring Hawkins, Goodman scored on an error by Campbell. J. Hawkins singled and scored by an infield hit by McProud.

Alhambra scored two runs the last half of the eighth. Brown singled to center after two were down and Wolford hit a home run to left field. This ended the scoring for the game.

Atwood for Alhambra struck out eight men and walked three. The umpires were Hargett, balls and strikes, Shields bases.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Fullerton	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	2	6	7	1
Alhambra	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	2	4	7	1

NEW YORK, June 13.—The greatest auto racing [illegible] America and Europe will [illegible] tomorrow in the [illegible] sweepstakes for the sprint championship of the world at the [illegible] head Bay speedway.

France, Italy and England sent over here the very best in automobile speed [illegible] and these land-fliers will be [illegible] by daredevils who have been making auto racing history during the past ten years. DOC ON VIEW.

With all the talent thus employed it was necessary to scare up somebody else to coach at third. This honor was conferred on Doc Crandall. As a rule, Doc doesn't get out and coach. He is a family man of regular habits, and doesn't care much for the limelight, or the frivolities of life. Mr. Crandall is what is known as a substantial citizen, and one of the pillars of the community.

Vic sure pitched a grand old game. Only two clean blows were combed off him, and but for the fact that our catcher and one of our numerous third basemen got their wires crossed, only one run would have been scored by the uppish Oaks. Mr. Aldridge is a deep mystery, and fully as easy to understand as a Greek rebus. Sometimes he looks like a world beater, and on other occasions might be mistaken for a bum.

A TRIFLE MIXED.

Lane opened the pastime with a grounder to Kenworthy, and reached first while Kopecs was engaging in his new specialty of pawing the grill. A. Arlett sacrificed, and Wills was an infield out. Roche raised a towering fly near the plate. Boles and Niehoff both camped under the ball, with the result that neither of them laid a glove on it. Lane counted under this lofty angle. Cooper raced to first ahead of a bunt to Niehoff. Wares whiffed. Nifty fielding by Fabrique, Bates and Crawford decorated the first half of the second.

Los Angeles tied it in the home half. Kenworthy, first up, decided to change his system and hit 'em where they ain't, as Ed Delahanty once remarked. The result was a triple of great power and beauty. This was before Doc appeared on the coaching line, and Killefer was doing the heavy thinking just off third. All at once Red had an inspiration. He yelled to Holling that he wanted to see the ball, and ordered him to throw it to him. So many pitchers are under suspicion of burrowing into the ball with their claws that it is by no means unusual for somebody to demand a look at it.

TERRIBLE, TERRIBLE!

Holling, being young and of a trusting disposition, didn't stop to figure that Red had no divine right to demand the pill, and confidently tossed it to him. Killefer side-stepped the ball, and it rolled to the stand. Kenworthy beat it home, while the visitors stood horrified and also petrified. This was strategy of the highest order. It requires a master mind to figure out a trick like that. Mrs. Holling's son never amounted to much after that. Elis then wrangled out a single, which would have scored Kopecs anyway, so Holling shouldn't feel so bad about being gold-bricked in public.

Aldridge tripled in the third, and counted on a single by Killefer. Thus the Angels went to the front, never to yield another foot of ground. Boles batted out a single in the fifth, and was forced by Aldridge. It was here that Killefer busted his triple, counting Vic. Red was hitting so regularly yesterday that the Oaks hated to see him come to bat. The squeeze was then worked successfully, when Fabrique bunted to Holling, and Red slid under the throw to Elliott. Bates got hold of one for a single, Fabrique was stopped at the plate on Crawford's grounder to Stumpf, and Kenworthy drove to Arlett for a forceout on Ray. This was our final clean-up, and sufficient unto the day thereof.

CONSOLATION.

Oakland gathered a consolation tally in the ninth. With one down, Roche doubled, and took third on Cooper's out. Rod Murphy was sent in to pinch hit for Wares. This was unnecessary, as Aldridge wild pitched Roche across. With the runner in, Rod grounded to Bates.

We really ought to cop the series now, as Crandall, Brown and Pertica are all fresh and rarin' to go, whereas the Oakland staff is regarded as pretty well shot to pieces.

SEALS DROP A PAINFUL GAME.

Outhit the Tigers, but Can't Get the Runs.

De Vormer Hits a Homer Into the Bleachers.

Bobby Meusel Looks Funny at third Base.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Today was Friday and the thirteenth and the Seals certainly had a lot of bad luck. They made thirteen hits—all honest to goodness slams, too,—but they scored only one run. As the Custard Pies made four runs off seven hits, naturally they won the old ball game and they also looked like the better ball club of the two, for whatever they tried, they pulled off, while the Seals were just as nimble on the bases as flies trying to lift their feet out of a mess of tanglefoot.

The score of the Seals looks made to order for a tail end ball club—plenty of hits, but mighty few runs. One of those ball clubs where you ask a player what the score was and he replies: "I don't know, but I got three hits."

Lack of speed on the part of Red McKee and Spider Baum cut the Seals out of chances for two runs, but as neither of these athletes is carried for his speed, they surprised no one when they let little Mitchell pull off swell plays at their expense and save the Custard Pies a mess of trouble.

Bobby Meusel, released from the Navy on the same day as Herbie Hunter, played third base for the Tigers and acted just like an outfielder. A play came up where he could play it just one way to avoid making a double play, and the kid played it just that way. But no harm resulted, for the Seals were not hitting when hits meant runs.

Kamm, the kid who played third base for the Seals, is even younger than Meusel yet he looked like a big leaguer in the field. He made one handed-grabs off hard shots from the bats of Mitchell and Fisher, and made the outs so easily that he hardly got a hand. Babe Pinelli would have stood on his left ear making the same kind of stops and the stands would have trembled to the applause.

Willie hit only one ball hard and it was his luck to have Chadbourne make one of his great catches and rob him of a two-bagger. Chad made the catch look easy, but any other center-fielder would have been chasing the ball.

It was the first appearance of Spider Baum on the mound in quite a spell, and he was just unlucky enough to choose one of those days when his playmates could not make their hits count for runs. The old boy got the first two men out in the first inning and then Bobby Meusel hit. He stole second, because Red McKee can't throw. He counted on Bortons hit.

In the second inning with two men out, DeVormer belted the ball into the left-field bleachers. That one was on the level. In the fourth Borton opened with a two-base hit and scored on two infield outs. In the sixth Meusel blasted open the inning with a two-bagger, and he scored on a double-steal with High, who was passed. The Seals are very weak on breaking up that play.

The Seals wasted a lot of hits but finally scored their only run in the eighth on Caveney's single, an infield out and Koerners two-bagger. Neither Connolly nor Kamm could budge Koerner off second base. In the ninth McKee opened with a hit and Corcoran was put on to run for him and Zamloch batted for Baum. Zamloch rolled out but Fitz got a pass, Schick forced Fitz at second and Caveney forced Schick at the same station and the affair was history. Score:

FIUME A HOTBED OF PROPAGANDA

Impassioned Oratory, Posters Fan Enthusiasm.

Italy Busy Stirring Sentiment Against Allies.

Children Can't Understand "Down with Wilson."

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FIUME, June 6 (by courier to Paris, June 13.)—Because of Hungarian suppression, there are no Croat schools in Fiume. I went to Susak to learn how many Fiume children crossed the river to go to school. I was told that of the 1000 pupils in the elementary institutions, 543 were residents of Fiume. There, it is charged, the caribinieri wink at the pranks of the young Italian clique. On the church door in the heart of the town, for example, a name is painted with an indecent reference. The general sent Italian soldiers to chip out the paint, but it since has been renewed in part.

Gen. Grazioli assured me the police had not been involved in the disorders, a theory which does not diverge from the opinions of Allied officers that they looked the other way.

Propaganda is rampant on every hand. As in Montenegro, the Austrians are the scapegoats of every shortcoming, so here are the Hungarians. They prevented our immigration, say the Italians. They suppressed our language in the schools, say the Croats. And over head floats an Italian airplane dropping assurances of the sympathy for Fiume.

"ITALY OR DEATH."

I am told a call was issued, May 24, for enlistments in the "volunteer battalion." Allied officers understand this means a civilian force, which, in the words of the Italian element, will fight for "Italy or death." I am told by an American officer, only about 100 enrolled. Enthusiasm was fanned, however, by posted utterances of d'Annunzio and impassioned orations. May 22, for instance, Benito Mussilinni, a journalist, declared all Italy demanded annexation despite the United States, England and France; that the Paris decision might be against Italy and they should entrust themselves for a fight.

Here is a specimen of one of the posters:

"Our young men are resolved more than ever to cry: 'If you want Fiume come and take it, pass over our dead bodies and find only a heap of ruins inside. Arise citizens. The battle is about to begin against everyone and everything!' For our rights, our dead.

"They may break us. Oh, people of Fiume, but they will never bend us. Though vanquished, we will be conquerors."

There is much more in this strain.

FIRELINGS SWELL PARADE.

Regarding an annexation parade, last month, a pretty story is told. To make a big showing, everyone connected with the municipality is expected to march with Italian flags.

Wilson's message was seared deep in Italian hearts, so the school children were prompted to say in Italian, "Down with Wilson!" But only the other day these same children hailed the victorious allies, a clean-eyed, square-jawed young man from overseas who had given them chocolate. And they remembered cheering especially these young men and shouting "Viva Wilson!"

Childish tongues could not say it any other way, so the Corso was dumbfounded to hear a jarring against the keynote of the day when childish treble raised the cry "Viva l'America! Viva Wilson!"

TWO CALIFORNIANS GET DISTINCTIONS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Additional awards of the Distinguished Service Cross for acts of extraordinary heroism in action have been announced by the War Department. Those receiving them include: Private Leon A. Alexander, National City, Cal.; Private Harold Brown (deceased,) Bakersfield.

BAKERSFIELD, June 13.—Harold Brown, awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action, was killed October 4, 1918, near Charlevaux, France, when the First and Second Battalions, Three Hundred and Eighth Infantry, of which he was a member, were surrounded by the enemy in the Forest of Argonne, according to citations made public by his widow, Mrs. Grace Gray Brown, here today. Brown volunteered to go out on patrol to establish liaison between Co. D and the forward troops. He was killed in an attempt to reach the forward battalions. Brown entered the service October, 1917. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown, his wife and a daughter born shortly before he left for war, survive him here.

DISCHARGE REASONS GOOD, REPORTS COLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Employees of the Southern Bell Telephone Company at Atlanta were dismissed "for good and sufficient reasons" and not because of union affiliation, Postal Inspector Cole reported today to Postmaster-General Burleson. Discharge of these workers caused the strike of wire employees in the Southeastern States and this was followed this week by the nation-wide walkout.

SAN JOAQUIN TO HAVE BASEBALL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, June 13.—At a meeting of baseball enthusiasts which was held here the San Joaquin Valley League for a summer season of baseball was formed with the admission of teams from: Hanford, Dinuba, Lemoore, Visalia, Coalinga and Oilfields. The managers of each club have posted a forfeit of $500 to guarantee they will play out their schedules.

PREP SWIMMERS TO MEET TODAY.

The Southern California Interscholastic Swimming Meet will be pulled off today at Catalina Island and promises to bring a large number of swimmers into the line-up. About eight or ten schools are in the entries and good, fast events are expected. Manual Arts, Poly, Los Angeles High, Pasadena, Lincoln, Venice Union High, San Pedro and several other schools will compete.

Polytechnic is said to be seriously figuring on capturing the meet, although Venice is quite liable to step in and grab something away. A fellow by the name of Vultee will be rather prominent in fifty and 100-yard dashes and will also go in with the relay team. Venice looks rather good, as they walked away with a meet held with Los Angeles High by the score of 60½ to 15¾ which Los Angeles thought they had a good chance to take.

A water polo competition between the same schools will also be a part of the swimming programme for tomorrow, at the Isle resort.

JUNIOR TENNIS SHARKS TO PLAY.

On June 19 the junior Southern California tennis tournament for girls and boys under 18 will be held at the Y.M.C.A. courts for the junior Southern California titles. There will be three classes entered, two for boys and one for girls. First for boys will be of those 18 and under, and second, 15 and under. For girls, 18 and under. Two cups will be given, and the winners will then be enabled to go up to the Pacific Coast juniors, which will be held, commencing the 28th, at the Berkeley Country Club courts, for one week.

Last year the juniors were held as a part of the Southern California championship event, at Long Beach, but in order to play off the matches before the entrants start on vacations, an entirely different arrangement has been made. This change also gives plenty of time before the northern title play.

BIG SHOOT WILL BE HELD TODAY.

The Los Angeles Gun Club will stage a shoot, tomorrow, giving five trophies. There will be two events, a 50-target distance handicap, and one for twenty-five targets at sixteen yards for the Blinkey Ben trophy. In case of ties they will be shot off at twenty-five targets.

COACHES WILL NOT LEAVE FOR POMONA.

The rumor that either "Tiny" Leonard or Coach Harry Trotter of Pasadena High would leave the Crown City school for Pomona is denied by both men. Trotter will, however, go into the flivver body-making business this summer with an old side kick of his, and if he makes a go of it he will drop his work at the Pasadena institution.

STRANGLER LEWIS TO MEET STECHER.

OMAHA (Neb.) June 13.—Gene Melady, local promoter, today signed Joe Stecher and Strangler Lewis for a finish match in Omaha on July 4. Anton Stecher, for Stecher, and Billy Sandow, for Lewis, each posted a forfeit of $1500 to bind the match. They will wrestle for 60 per cent. of the gross receipts on a winner-take-all basis.

ANGELENO'S CHART FOR PACIFIC FLIGHT.

LOCAL WEATHER SHARP WILD HELP AVIATORS IN RACE FOR GREAT PRIZE.

Dr. Ford Carpenter, in charge of the government Weather Bureau for this district, has been engaged to prepare a weather chart which will be used in the trans-Pacific airplane flight projected by Thomas H. Ince. He is the first weather forecaster to be thus honored in this country.

Mr. Ince and S. S. Vibbero of the Pacific Aero Club in San Francisco went to San Diego yesterday where they were in conference with Col. A. J. Hanlon, Col. William Thaw and Lieutenant-Commander E. W. Spencer at the North Island Aviation School concerning the proposed flight.

These three government instructors in aviation will form a part of the General Committee which will have charge of the flight. Mr. Ince has announced that competing flyers will be allowed to land in the Philippines, Asia or Australia, that $50,000 will go to the winner, and that if nobody wins a prize of $5000 will go to the flyer going as far as the Hawaiian Islands.

Adjustments for errors will be made in accordance with published rules and regulations. No advertisements for errors will be made advertising themselves as "Agents Wanted" or advertising themselves as "Agents Wanted" or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement. HOLDS JAW TO STOP JAWING.

Young Husband has Unique Way of Conversing with His Mate.

The divorce court is making a philosopher of Judge Crail. There was a case in point yesterday. Joseph Warwick, 22 years old, was before him charged with failure to provide for his wife, Evelyn Warwick. His method of conversing with his wife was unique. He told the court.

"The only way I can get a word in edgeways is to back her up against a wall, close her mouth and hold her there," he told the court. Judge Crail instructed Mrs. Warwick to have a talk with her husband.

"I will give you two hours to fix it up," he said.

The couple returned to the courtroom on time, smiling. They had made up. It also was evident that Mr. Warwick had got more than one word in "edgeways." The case was dismissed.

SILVER LAKE TREES ARE TO BE SAVED.

The trees surrounding Silver Lake, which have been suffering from want of care, are to be saved. Mrs. Woodford Norman, representing a neighborhood meeting called recently to secure improvements for Silver Lake, appeared before the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday and urged that immediate care be given the trees. She was supported by the recommendations of Chief Engineer Mulholland, and provision was made for placing a man on this work immediately. Mrs. Norman stated that the neighborhood will take steps to try to secure the Silver Lake property, which consists of 170 acres, as a public park.

AMERICAN HOME-MADE BEER

Remarkable Answer to an S. O. S.

The Brewers are Defunct—the Last Sad Rites Performed.

But may the physician still prescribe a genuine malt tonic—the convalescent use it—the family drink it—the social gathering yet enjoy an absolutely pure and genuine "before the war beer?"

This "question of the hour" is answered with a smashing affirmative by Mr. E. J. Weston of this city.

He holds the secret formula of the great brewing concern which he has represented for years.

He enables any housewife to produce his "second-to-none-in-the-world" product in her own home and with her ordinary kitchen utensils.

That is why Mr. Weston has called his splendid beverage "American Home-made Beer."

It has the taste, tang, tonic "tingle" and food value of the best beer ever brewed—bar none.

Americans say—"I will try anything once." Very well—Mr. E. J. Weston asks only for the "once" and will refund your money if your order be not repeated.

Send your order for the simple instructions and condensed ingredients.

Order No. 1 makes 60 quarts, $2.70.
Order No. 2 makes 30 quarts, $2.00.

FOX GETS A BILL.

Tailor Hears He Paid President's Bill and Duns Him in Jail.

The quick action of George A. Fox, convicted of defrauding Mrs. Anna G. Walters out of $5100 by a lover's wiles, in promptly paying the taxes on President Wilson's ranch at Indio, brought an unexpected claim for payment yesterday, it was reported at the County Jail. Not only did Fox get back the $37.21 he sent to the Riverside County Tax Collector, but a San Francisco tailor sent a bill. The tailor wrote that he understood Fox was "in the money market again, and had paid the President's taxes." The tailor asked if Fox had forgotten the "trifling bill of $50," which the tailor said was due, and payment on which would be appreciated.

HONOR BANK SERVICE MEN.

"In gratitude to the men of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank who answered their country's call to fight for freedom," a bronze tablet bearing the names of the bank's forty service men was placed yesterday in the lobby of the institution. Of the men who entered the service none was killed and thirty-four have returned to their former positions.

WOULD DIVORCE JOY R. CLARK.

Former Miss Florence Wood Files Suit Here.

Society Woman Charges Him with Desertion.

No Contest Expected; Husband Now in East.

Joy Clark, formerly a prominent young business and society man of Los Angeles, and who served during the war as a captain in the American Red Cross forces in France, was sued for divorce yesterday by Florence Wood Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Modini-Wood of 515 Shatto place. The suit was filed through Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, and alleges desertion. No contest is expected.

After the armistice was signed Capt. Clark returned to Los Angeles for a brief visit to his mother and brother here, and then left for the East. The notice of the suit has not as yet been received by him, but it is believed that legal service will be secured within the required time.

The filing of the divorce action will occasion no particular surprise among the many friends of the popular young couple, as they have lived apart for some time. At the time the separation became known, Mrs. Modini-Wood, mother of Mrs. Clark, said: "It is a matter which Mr. and Mrs. Clark must settle for themselves." When Capt. Clark reappeared in Los Angeles after the armistice was signed the many friends of the pair hoped for a reconciliation, but Capt. Clark went East, and at his brother's house last night it was said his present whereabouts are unknown.

The wedding of Mr. Clark and Miss Wood took place at Christ Church on September 1, 1913, the ceremony being performed by Bishop Joseph H. Johnson, assisted by the Rev. Baker P. Lee. It was the most brilliant wedding of that season, the floral decorations including 12,000 gladiolus blossoms and 2000 Easter lily plants. The guests were most prominent people socially in Los Angeles, and there were many friends present from the East.

Following their marriage the young couple enjoyed a honeymoon trip to Europe, and on their return lived first at 1 Chester place, and then at 682 South Benton boulevard. Since the separation Mrs. Clark has lived with her two children, a boy of 4 years and a girl of 3, at the home of her parents in Shatto place. Neither she nor her mother were at home last evening.

Mr. Clark was at one time president of the Los Angeles Public Market Company, which later became the Wholesale Terminal, and he was president of the Terminal Company, a freight transfer corporation. In 1916 he ran for Congress in the Tenth District, but was defeated by Stanley Benedict.

SCOUT OF THE SKY FINDS FAIR BRIDE.

AERIAD OBSERVER IS HOME WITH PRIZE HE SPIED FROM WAR PLANE.

Bringing a fair prize of love and war, George Lowry of Santa Monica, formerly an army aerial observer, arrived here yesterday from overseas with his British bride. It is said he was the first American observer to photograph areas back of the German lines in France, but before he left the training area in England he had sharpened eyes and nerves by selecting a wife on the fly, so to speak.

Friends say Mr. Lowry first saw Miss Doris Francis, the present Mrs. Lowry, when he was flying over her home in Eastleigh, Eng. Promptly he formed the habit of dropping notes to her. After several weeks he mustered nerve to descend to solid earth, with such success that they were married before he left for active service in France.

Mr. Lowry was sent to England two years ago, and served in the English Aviation Corps. He brings his bride to the home of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Lowry of Seventh street, Santa Monica.

STUDENT BODY'S ELECTION.

Nominations for next term's student body officers were held yesterday at the Los Angeles High School. The campaign, one of the most exciting in years, has been progressing for many days. Interest centered around the nomination of student body president, for which office Richard Sampson, well-known in prep athletics, and Hayden Conner are the hopeful candidates. The election will be held in the early part of next week.

CALM IS SHATTERED BY A HAND GRENADE.

QUIET STRANGER WITH GRIM BIT OF SALVAGE GIVES POLICE A THRILL.

It was an innocent looking object, about four inches long and shaped like a potato—innocent looking until someone discovered it was a hand grenade. Then things moved hurriedly, and most of the things were detectives at Central Station.

It all happened late yesterday afternoon when a soft-spoken man appeared at the window where Officer Daubner takes reports of things lost, stolen and mislaid. The man had in his hand the potato-shaped article, and his inquiry was, "What will I do with it?"

"What is it?" asked Daubner.

"A hand grenade," was the reply.

"Take it out of here!" shouted the report-maker. But the quiet-mannered man stood still and continued to look calm. The commotion was overhead by A. J. Barrow, stenographer to George Home, who, until recently was a "top" sergeant with the marines in France. He, seeing the article, recognized it as a long lost friend, but when he showed it to Lieut. Moffat, and explained its workings, Lieut. Moffat failed dismally to register interest or joy. Orders to get rid of it resulted in it reaching the hands of Detective Sergeant C. E. Walker, bomb expert. He in turn placed it in the gutter before the station and detailed himself to keep pedestrians away.

Meantime the man who took it to the station had vanished, but he was finally discovered, hiding in the doorway leading to the police courts and evidently interested in the final disposition of the explosive. He was admonished, encouraged and finally ordered by Lieut. Moffat to make a special journey to the harbor and throw it overboard.

BANDINI ESTATE SMALL.

Ten Thousand Figure in Probate of De Baker Heir's Will.

Robert M. Bandini, automobile driver, who was killed in a race at Indianapolis on May 31, and one of the heirs of the estate of the late Arcadia B. de Baker, left an estate valued at $10,000, according to a will filed for probate yesterday. His interest in the De Baker estate was said to be considerably more than that sum.

A bequest of the Trenton Farm tract, a ranch near Windsor, Cal., is made to Leverton and Laura Godfrey Harris of Santa Rosa, and the rest of the estate is left to his mother, Mrs. Ruth McMahon, of Los Angeles. The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank is named as executor and Joseph Musgrove is the attorney.

FEARS HE'LL CASH IN.

Seeking Divorce, Wife Would Stop Husband From Raising Funds.

A suit for separate maintenance in which desertion is charged, was filed yesterday by Mrs. Adelaide Wade of 820 South St. Andrews place against Dr. Will L. Wade. Mrs. Wade states that her husband, who owns oil stock and other securities, threatens to convert about $50,000 in securities into cash and remove from the State. She asks in her complaint that he be restrained from disposing of the securities or incumbering the personal property before the trial of the suit.

The Wades separated last Tuesday after a married life of eight years.

This is the gist of the views brought here directly from the Peace Conference in Paris by Dr. Edward T. Williams, Technical Delegate of the United States Commission to Negotiate Peace, and for the past six years in charge of far eastern affairs at the State Department at Washington. Dr. Williams arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and is at the home of his brother, Frank S. Williams of 921 West Twenty-first street.

HOPE IN FUTURE.

"Some months ago it was realized by those in touch with the situation in Paris that President Wilson was determined to sacrifice some of his earlier views for the sake of assuring the formation of the League of Nations," said Dr. Williams last night. "His friends realized he felt the league could in future years adjust the situations and right the wrongs brought about by the conflict of ambitions of nations he thought were necessary to the creation of the nations' league.

"This phase came up especially during our consideration of the questions involving the Far East and the problems there. The American delegation was in close touch with me, as its technical adviser, and my position was that of many others who did not feel that Japan's threat to withdraw from the league was necessarily fatal to its formation. However, the events speak for themselves."

Dr. Williams believes the covenant of the League of Nations could be improved, but on the whole he favors it, and in it sees the only hope of China and the nations and nationalities whose aspirations and demand for self-determination were set aside for the sake of diplomatic expediency.

CHANGE OF FEELING.

MINISTER'S CAR IN LONG STAND.

Place is Vernon Country Club, so Police Tow Auto to Garage.

Chief of Police Harris of Vernon yesterday ordered towed to a garage in that town a Dodge touring car which bore a license tag reading "U. S. 69," and listed as belonging to the Rev. George D. Doyle, formerly at the Pala Indian Reservation and now a missionary among the Morongo Indians at Banning. In answer to inquiries at Banning yesterday it was stated that the Rev. Mr. Doyle had started for New York and it was feared that his car might have been stolen and the thief had left it in front of the Vernon Country Club, where it had stood since Thursday evening.

"MASHER" CONVICTED.

Auto Dealer Accosts Girl Four Times, to His Sorrow.

Louis M. Jacobson, an auto dealer of 942 Everett street, was yesterday in Police Judge Crawford's court found guilty of disturbing the peace. Sentence will be pronounced today at 10 o'clock.

According to Patrolman J. A. Johnson, Jacobson attempted four times last Tuesday night to induce Aida Munro, 17 years old, of 1702 Maple avenue, to get into his automobile. He was arrested after Miss Munro had complained to the officer and Jacobson, seeing her talking to the patrolman, had vanished. Johnson hid in a doorway and, he says, the auto dealer returned fifteen minutes later and again accosted the girl. Jacobson was arrested on the spot.

ON CROSS-COMPLAINT.

Mrs. Malachai Coates Alleges Other Woman; Gets Decree.

Testimony in the divorce suit of Malachai Wilson Coates against Lucretia J. Coates, which was tried on Mrs. Coates's cross-complaint by Judge Taft yesterday, showed that another woman was known as Mrs. Coates in the Ramona Acres bungalow he occupied. Mr. Coates did not appear in court, and the divorce was granted to Mrs. Coates.

Mr. Coates in his complaint charged his wife with deserting him in Port Richmond, N. Y., in 1913. She filed a cross-complaint alleging that Mr. Coates and Verle Hope Fuller were posing as man and wife in Ramona Acres.

Judge Taft, commenting on the case, said that the courts here are being crowded by just such actions, but that the innocent victim must be considered.

WILL PROSECUTE EX-EVANGELIST

His Wife Blames Widow's Eyes for His Flight.

Property Protected by Ho Anti-Flirting Pact.

Lomax-Shaw Killing Recalle by Strange Case.

Magnetic personality and hypnotic eyes, against which he is alleged to have struggled for months, even asking his wife's assistance to overcome it, are blamed by Mrs. Catherine Layton MacDonald, 45 years of age, as the real cause of the flight of her husband, Rev. Horace Loring MacDonald, 25 years of age, former Boston evangelist, with Mrs. Wood-this M. Shaw, 27 years of age, at 243 North Burlington avenue.

The couple left this city, Saturday night, according to the police, who arrested MacDonald, yesterday, in Fresno, on a charge of embezzlement. MacDonald is alleged to have taken with him a $2000 automobile, $2500 in cash and jewelry valued at several thousand dollars, all property of Mrs. MacDonald. The Fresno police say he gave his age as 19, that of his companion as 18 and that of his wealthy wife as 53. They were registered at a Fresno hotel as Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, according to the officers.

Mrs. Shaw is the widow of Albert B. Shaw, a jeweler, who was shot and killed in a downtown jewelry store by Robert E. Lomax, July 2, 1914. She is alleged to have accompanied MacDonald in his wife's automobile, first to a beach town, then to Bakersfield, and to have arrived in Fresno three days ago. The couple, according to the local police, were attempting to make their way to Australia by way of San Francisco. The four children of Mrs. Shaw were left with their mother, Mrs. Jennie Lapham, at 243 Burlington avenue address.

According to Mrs. MacDonald, who married the evangelist just two years ago, Mrs. Shaw was employed by him as a clerk at a downtown market, where he held concessions. She was later employed at other stalls in the same market, and for a time was a demonstrator. It was while she was in MacDonald's employ, according to Mrs. MacDonald, that he came under the influence of the widow's "hypnotic eyes."

Mrs. MacDonald's first husband, Bernard W. Layton, for fourteen years sergeant-at-arms in the United States Senate, has been dead almost five years. MacDonald and Mrs. Layton met here, went to San Francisco and were married.

After purchasing a fine automobile and a beach home at 1234 Dudley avenue, Venice, Mrs. MacDonald set her youthful husband up in business in a downtown market. The couple then took up their home in a local hotel, spending the weekends at the beach. According to Mrs. MacDonald, for over a year her youthful husband made a model sweetheart.

IS KILLED BY SAND SLIDE.

Buried with a team of horses and a wagon by a slide of over fifty tons of sand while working in the K and K Brick Company's sand pit on the Bishop Road late yesterday afternoon, Albert W. Rumble, 47 years of age, of No. 1031 Yale street was suffocated before a score of workers directed by Police Detective John Level were able to clear away the heaped up sand. Rumble's crumpled body was discovered beneath the wreckage of his wagon after both horses had been pulled still alive from the hole. He had been crushed against a wheel of the wagon.

According to workmen who were in the pit at the time of the slide, Mr. Rumble, who had a lease on the pit, was working under the overhanging cliff of sand filling a wagon. He was attempting to complete a large order of moulding sand to be delivered to a downtown factory. Without any warning according to witnesses a huge slice of the cliff crashed down upon Rumble and buried him and the horses under many feet of sand.

Detective Level from East Side Police Station rushed to the scene of the accident and organized all the workmen in the pit and men from the neighborhood into shifts and at once began the work of rescue. The policeman in his report stated that over fifty tons of sand were removed by the gang before the first horse was unearthed. Both the horses were removed from the hole alive but when Rumble was discovered it was found that he had been pinned against the wheel of the wagon and suffocated.

According to Clifford Rumble a son, Mr. Rumble bought the lease to the sand pit three days ago from his brother. He had contracted with a number of local foundries and brick companies to furnish them with sand and was attempting to get out his contracts when the accident took place.

LOS ANGELES SUNDAY TIMES TEN CENTS.

Commencing tomorrow, the price of the Sunday edition of the Los Angeles Times will be 10 cents per copy everywhere, when sold by newsboys or news dealers.

Delivered by carrier, the subscription rate will be 40 cents a month for the Sunday Only edition.

The regular subscription rate for The Times, daily and Sunday, by carrier, will continue at 85 cents per month.

The cost of material and all items entering into the production of a metropolitan newspaper has increased 40 per cent. to 400 per cent. To publish the largest Sunday newspaper in the world, which The Times is and has been for a great many years, and continue on a sound business basis, is impossible at the old price. The cost of the white paper alone in the Sunday Times is considerably more than the new retail price of 10 cents. This excess and innumerable other items of increased cost will have to be offset by the advertising unless some portion of the increase is borne by readers of the paper. It is manifestly inequitable that the whole burden of increased production cost shall be put on advertising patrons of the paper.

This is a consistent rate, inasmuch as the price of the local Sunday papers outside of Los Angeles and the ten-mile limit has been 10 cents for several months. The same rate is now made to apply to the city.

San Francisco and Oakland publishers announce that the price of Sunday editions will be 10 cents per copy beginning June 15.

It is impossible to produce a big Sunday paper at the old rate.

INDICT TWO AS BANK LOOTERS.

Government Acts in Artesia Case as State Waits.

Theft of Stamps and Bonds is Basis of Charge.

Bail for Man and Woman is Fixed at Large Sum.

Among the indictments returned by the Federal grand jury, yesterday, was one against Lewis B. Harris and Francis Kennedy, alias Francis Harris, alias Francis Germane, charged with stealing government property from the First National Bank of Artesia, on the night of March 25, last.

Harris and the woman are in the County Jail, on an indictment charging burglary, a State offense, and are held in heavy bail. It coming to the ears of the Federal authorities, it is said, that Harris was about to raise the money to furnish the bond in the State courts, the indictment of the pair on a Federal charge followed. They will be brought into the Federal Court, Monday, to plead to the indictment. Bond was fixed at $5000 for each defendant yesterday.

It is alleged in the bill that Harris and the woman stole $1500 worth of postage, War Savings and Thrift stamps when they broke into the bank, and $18,000 or $20,000 worth of Liberty Bonds, the most of them unregistered and therefore a partial loss to the owners. These had been deposited in the safety deposit boxes of the bank.

According to Postoffice Inspector Cookson, the gang, which, it is alleged, consisted of the two under indictment and three others who are yet at liberty, went to San Francisco, after dividing up the spoils at a hotel in Venice, and traded the most of the stamps and unregistered bonds for high-priced jewelry, diamonds, etc., the most of which have been recovered and will be sold for the benefit of the owners of the unregistered bonds. The proceeds ought to recoup them to a large extent on account of the loss sustained, it is said.

Adolph Ruile, who, it is alleged, conducted a private "moonshine" establishment at his home, 1543 Central avenue, where he says he manufactured brandy for his own use, was indicted also as a violator of the internal revenue law. He is at liberty under bond, and a strong effort in his behalf will be made, it being claimed that he was making the stuff for his individual use, and was not "in the business," as contemplated by the law.

Other indictments were against D. E. Vaughan, stealing a letter from the United States mail; Daisy V. Calvin, sending an improper letter through the mails; and Ramon Lugo, killing a steer on an Indian reservation.

No bills were returned against Irving R. Martin, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and Esteban Echanis, with having smoking opium in his possession.

BLAME CHILDREN FOR RESIDENCE FIRE.

Believed to have been caused by children playing with matches under the rear porch, a fire last night caused $3000 damage to the residence of E. P. McCue at 1958 Estrella street. The house, owned by Mrs. Ella Fleming and covered by insurance, is a total loss. Investigation by the University police is said to have shown that several children were seen to run from beneath the house shortly before heavy clouds of smoke were seen to be coming from where they had been playing.

HUNS MUST PAY, SAYS BELGIAN.

Chaplain-in-Chief of Little Land's Army Speaks.

Urges Full Reparation for All Damage Done.

Don't Want Charity, but Raw Material, He States.

A message of Belgium's gratitude to the American people was brought to this city yesterday by Maj. Pierre Blommaert, Protestant Chaplain-in-Chief of the Belgian Army, who spoke before the Rotary Club at noon.

Maj. Blommaert, who has been in Southern California for several days, is touring the larger cities of America at the request of the Belgian government. He is a graduate of the Universities of Ghent and Geneva, and served with distinction throughout the war. His gallantry on the front with the Belgian Army and his unusual organization services won for him the Croix de Guerre with Palm and his appointment as a Chevalier of the Order of Leopold. These two treasures he produced yesterday from an old tobacco can in which he carries them.

A complete constructive peace with a just indemnity, and the means of reconstruction are the desires of Belgium, Maj. Blommaert stated.

"Belgium does not seek the charity of any nation," he said, "but the opportunity to resume the prosperity of ante-bellum days with her own efforts. Though we can never pay for our gallant dead the sacrifice for national honor which we made surely deserves, at the peace table, full reparation for the material destruction and looting which we suffered from the German invaders.

"Now we want to forget the horrors we have lived through and to immerse our energies and spirits in the work of reconstruction and building even greater national prosperity and happiness. Here is America's opportunity. Through the American Expeditionary Forces my people have been closely associated with the American ideal of team work. Belgium needs such a spirit and we wish to make exchanges of the best of our respective systems of living.

"We need raw materials, so that we may manufacture our own fabrics and mechanical articles, rather than purchase them from other countries. More important than these material aids can be the assistance from America in the lines of education; an exchange system of university professors and of students will benefit us, and the United States as well. Our churches and schools have been destroyed and already we are assured of assistance by your people. The universities of Ghent, Liege and other centers of the invaded district are in dire need, and any financial aid from this side of the Atlantic should be divided pro rata.

"It will be at least four or five years before conditions in Belgium will be normal again. And only the return of our stolen assets of labor or payment for them by the vandals through just treaty terms, will enable us to feed and clothe and house our people with our own efforts as our self-respect demands. The cry of 'Heroic Belgium,' with international applause, does not feed or rebuild a ruined country."

Surprising was Maj. Blommaert's statement that the spiritual effect of Belgium's devastation during the war upon his countrymen was an actual uplift and incentive to serious thought.

LEADERS NAMED BY OSTEOPATHS.

State Association Elects New Set of Officers.

President Says Governor is an "Autocrat."

Calls for Fight to Reduce Executive's Powers.

The California Osteopathic Association, in annual convention here, yesterday elected officers, listened to a statement of policies by Dr. W. W. Vanderburgh, the president-elect, and cleared decks for the final sessions today. The officers chosen with Dr. Vanderburgh are: Dr. Morgan of San Diego, vice-president; secretary and treasurer to be elected; members of the board: Dr. T. F. Engstrom, Corning; Dr. Charles E. Pierce, San Francisco; Dr. Leona Taylor, Fresno; Dr. W. V. Goodfellow, Los Angeles; Dr. Harriet E. Hines, Pasadena; Dr. J. A. Vance, Ontario; Dr. R. E. Lee, San Bernardino; Dr. Ellsworth Fleming, Long Beach; Dr. William McMullen, Fullerton; Dr. Henry J. Sanford, San Diego; Dr. L. J. Goodrich, Santa Barbara, and Dr. Pearl Rittenhouse, Holtville.

Dr. Vanderburgh, in a speech following the election, called Gov. Stephens an "autocrat." The Governor has vetoed a bill that the osteopaths strongly advocated, and in reference to this executive act, Dr. Vandergurgh said:

HITS CONSTITUTION.

"California has taken front rank among the progressive States of the nation. We have adopted the initiative and referendum, and many other progressive measures. Yet we cling to a constitution that permits one man to set aside the solemn judgment of the people.

"It is to be expected that we will occasionally elect an autocrat with sufficient ego to overrule the people whose servant he is supposed to be. The remedy lies in a revision of the Constitution. The Constitution of this State places entirely too much power in the hands of the Governor, too much power for any man, certainly for a man who has no regard for the will of the people. We must work to the limit of our ability to correct the defects in our Constitution. We must work with equal zeal to prevent the election of an autocrat to any position where he can override the will of all the people."

Among the physicians and surgeons who discussed the topic, "Senility," were Drs. Clara P. Stillman of Pasadena and Edward S. Merrill of Los Angeles. In charge of the meeting were J. Harper Edmiston of this city; Olive Bondies, South Pasadena; Marie Fitch, Pasadena; Olive Clark, Los Angeles; J. Strothard White, Pasadena, and L. Van H. Gerdine of Missouri.

MANY ARE HEARD.

The round table discussions, in charge of Dr. Charles H. Spencer, past president of the association, were entered by the following: Dr. Arthur E. Pike of Long Beach; Dr. Mary E. Wright of Santa Ana, Dr. Harriet Cline Bingham of Anaheim, Dr. Alva Elder of Visalia, Dr. Norman F. Sprague of Los Angeles; Dr. Herman Beckwith of Glendora, Dr. Louis C. Chandler of Berkeley, Dr. George H. Bartholomew of Los Angeles, Dr. Susan H. Hamilton of Sonora, Dr. O. J. Glenn of Santa Monica, Dr. Grace Stratton Airey of Salt Lake City, Dr. Leona Taylor of Fresno, Dr. F. D. Bland of Pasadena, Dr. T. C. Morris of Spokane, and Dr. Pearl A. Bliss of Los Angeles.

Last night a formal banquet was given in honor of the visiting delegates at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena. Dr. Walter V. Goodfellow of this city was in charge.

More than 400 persons attended the convention during the past week.

problem of Japanese demands would receive the same treatment," he said. "What later transpired sent China into depression. China felt that the nation that entered the war to make the world safe for democracy, whatever that may mean, was delivering a strong blow to the only democratic nation in the Far East and was supporting the strongest military power and monarchy in that part of the world. The $5,000,000 who came within the scope of Japan's domination pleaded for the self-determination which President Wilson said nations ought to have."

Dr. Williams is well acquainted with the Chinese affairs, having spent twenty-six years in diplomatic service there. The action of the Peace Conference in allowing Japan's claims in the Shantung territory was a practical indorsement of the convention of 1915, which was considered by China as coercion by Japan at the point of the sword.

"It is difficult for China to consider us its friend now, and I doubt whether Japan feels any more friendly toward us. The future, however, may change the situation."

Any talk of trouble between the United States and Japan is baseless, Dr. Williams believes. Japan is not seeking any trouble with this country, and is basically too weak economically to withstand a war, he says.

ISLAND QUESTION.

"I can't help feeling, however, that we have lost a great deal of prestige in the Pacific by allowing Japan to take control of the German islands north of the equator. Japan's expansion in the past always was in the direction of west and northwest, and never south. On the other hand, the islands, especially the Marshall Islands, are in a direct line between Hawaii and the Philippines. We have four cable lines running into Guam, for instance, and these might be cut by Japan in the event of trouble."

Great Britain and Japan were the nations that appear to have obtained all they sought in the Peace Conference, he says. There was every indication of team work, Dr. Williams states, in the capture by the British of the German Islands in the Pacific, and the occupation of them by the Japanese. Diplomatically, the whole situation dates back to 1916 and 1917, when the situation in the Mediterranean became so grave that Great Britain wanted Japan's help there. France wanted Japan's help in bringing about China's entrance into the war. The result was the secret treaties with Japan in March, 1917, with France and February with Great Britain—in which they pledged support to Japan's claims in China. The whole matter hinged there, Dr. Williams declared.

CANDOR DIFFICULT.

Open diplomacy, for which President Wilson stood when he went to Europe, is not easy even in the case of two nations, to say nothing of twenty-six nations, Dr. Williams said. The President realized that, but instinctively clung to the League of Nations on the ground of far-visioning statesmanship and in an effort to achieve what he believes to be the fundamental principle upon which the future of the world must rest.

Dr. Williams is on his way to Berkeley, where he will take up his position as p rofessor of Oriental languages in the University of California. He left that position at the request of Secretary Lansing, and now is able to resume his work in the university. He will leave Los Angeles tomorrow.

DODSON IN METROPOLIS.

Dodson is now legally a part of the city of Los Angeles. The City Council so declared yesterday, when it adopted an ordinance approving the annexation of this territory. An annexation election was held in the district a few days ago, wherein five votes were cast, all of them being by members of the Dodson family. The district is in San Pedro, adjacent to Seventh and Meyler streets.

Funeral services for Pansy Helen Shellaby, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Shellaby, 4206 South Mannattan place, who died early yesterday, will be conducted at the family residence at 2 p.m. today. The little girl's death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mr. Shellaby is a solicitor in the advertising department of The Times.

SENTENCE MEN WHO CHEATED ANGELENOS.

FAKE STOCK SELLERS, WHO DID BIG BUSINESS HERE, IN FEDERAL JAIL.

Information was received yesterday by United States District Attorney O'Connor that John W. Barrett and John J. Armstrong, who operated a string of stock-selling offices at various points along the Pacific Coast, including Los Angeles, under the aliases of Huntington Mitchell and Henry G. Davis, had been sentenced to the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for two years each by the United States District Court at Kansas City, following their confession of guilt.

Also, that Kyrle C. Barrett, a son of Barrett, had been given six months in the County Jail at Kansas City, and that Reginald Barrett, another son and member of the gang of swindlers, had been given a stretch of three months in the County Jail at Spokane, Wash. The allegation against the quartette was using the mails in a scheme to defraud in all these prosecutions.

One of the first named defendants, operating under the name of Huntington Mitchell, was indicted by the local Federal court on a similar charge, he conducted, offices in the Baker-Detweiler and the Security Bank buildings, and made a specialty of dealing in bonds of industrial and mining enterprises. According to information in the hands of the United States District Attorney, Mitchell cleaned up several thousand dollars during the course of a six months' residence in Los Angeles from confiding investors who got nothing for the money they gave Mitchell to invest for them in various sorts of securities.

When living in Los Angeles, Mitchell maintained a handsome and expensive home at Forty-eighth and Cimarron streets, and was well known among the operators in his particular line of business.

The two Barretts and Armstrong were picked up at Fort Worth, Tex., and taken to Kansas City for trial, where it is alleged they were heavy operators in stocks and bonds that cost the investors a pretty penny.

HIT BY TEAM, DYING; DRIVER GETS AWAY.

Struck by a horse and wagon while crossing the street at 1230 Seventy-fifth street, Edward L. Dodd, 60 years old, of 2986 West Twelfth street, received probably fatal injuries late yesterday afternoon. When brought to the Receiving Hospital he was found to be suffering from a basal fracture of the skull, internal injuries and a fractured lower jaw. He was later transferred to the County Hospital in an unconscious condition. According to the report at the Receiving Hospital, no arrest of the driver of the wagon was made.

HONOR MANAGERS.

Heads of Enterprising Store Banquet at Alexandria.

The achievements of the past, and plans for the future were reviewed at the annual banquet of the department managers of the J. M. Hale Company, at the Hotel Alexandria, last night. Nearly thirty men and women were present.

Under the leadership of W. C. Galbraith and T. F. Quinlan, the Los Angeles store managers, the heads of the various departments of the Hale store took part in the informal programme in which the optimistic spirit of the Hale organization was expressed. George H. Pannel, manager of the cloak and suit department, acted as toastmaster.

The banquet was the second one, commemorating the consolidation of the chain of Hale stores in California.

SAYS HE KNOWS NOT WHENCE TIRES CAME.

Apparent inability of Martin J. Lavelle, a discharged soldier, to explain how he came into possession of auto tires valued at $200, led to his arrest yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong. The tires were stolen from the Bell Station Garage. C. M. Glass was asked by Lavelle to sell the articles for him and the theft was discovered at the time. Lavelle was arraigned yesterday before Justice Cassiday of Huntington Park.

REMARKABLE ELOPEMENT

Former Boston Evangelist is Arrested in Fresno on Wife's Complaint.

San Francisco, Mrs. MacDonald, through her attorney, drew up a contract with her husband, which provided that he would forfeit everything that she might ever give or deed to him, if, during their married life he should ever pay any attention to another woman. The contract, according to Mrs. MacDonald, still holds, and now all property and money which she has given her husband revert to her. According to her statement she has deeded several pieces of property to her husband.

"My husband has known Mrs. Shaw for some time," she said. "She was employed in the market for some time, and was working part of the time for Mr. MacDonald. Some time after she first came into our life I began to see a change in my husband. Then he told me of the strange influence which Mrs. Shaw seemed to have over him. Upon one occasion my husband asked me to come down to his stalls and sit there through the day to prevent him from seeing too much of Mrs. Shaw. I did the best that I could to prevent the woman from getting control of my husband, but just when I thought that all was well, I found out that I had failed. My husband collected all my jewels, drew all the money from a joint bank account we were keeping, took my automobile and fled with Mrs. Shaw."

"Late Saturday night, June 7, I was with my husband at the store. We closed the place at about 10 p.m., and he told me to wait there and he would go and get the automobile. I never saw him again. I discovered later that he got the automobile and drove to Mrs. Shaw's home. The two then left for the beach and later went to Fresno. I do not know who was the most to blame. I am going to recover all my property, of course, as under the contract we drew following our marriage his attentions to Mrs. Shaw loosen him all his rights in my property. I will prosecute him for embezzlement, and may also secure a divorce. As to that, I am not in a position to state at this time."

CHILDREN PUZZLED.

At the Burlington street home Mrs. Shaw's four little children yesterday were unable to understand their mother's absence. Mrs. Erghme is under the care of a physician, and relatives and friends are caring for the children. According to Mrs. Erghme, her daughter left the house late Saturday night. She went in an automobile and took no clothing or luggage with her. She left bareheaded. GOT GARLIC, GOT SHOT, AND A HUNDRED DAYS.

Charged with having attempted to steal thirty-four pounds of garlic from a Chinese rancher named Wong Wah Hah, last Tuesday evening, John L. Alisanda was found guilty of the charge yesterday afternoon in Police Judge Crawford's court and sentenced to 100 days in the east side prison. According to the evidence presented, the Chinese found Alisanda stealing the garlic and shot him in the arm with a load of birdshot. When the officers from the University Police Station arrived they found the garlic thief hiding under a barn. He was then taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

-why Ghirardelli's has advanced in price

Only because of the steadily mounting increase in the cost of production has it been necessary to advance the price of Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate. Take, for example, cocoa beans—the big essential in chocolate. This item alone has gone up more than 100 per cent.

But, whatever the price, you know that Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate always gives a full measure of economy—a value that is acknowledged and appreciated in more than a million homes in the West. At your grocer's—in ½ lb., 1 lb. and 3 lb. cans.

Husband Says He Married at Point of Revolver.

But Lived with His Spouse During Eight Months.

Loses Annulment Suit and Must Pay Alimony.

Howard E. Dukes, a young man who said he was forced to marry Frances E. Dukes at the point of a revolver, was denied an annulment of his marriage by Judge Crail yesterday. Mrs. Dukes, who had filed a suit for separate maintenance, was granted alimony of $3.50 a week.

Mrs. Dukes's case was called first, but in a little while the court said he would hear from Mr. Dukes.

"She forced herself upon me," he said. "I was confused and afraid: I could not seem to control myself."

It developed, however, that Mr. Dukes had lived with his wife eight months and visited her at the home of her mother several times.

"I have no faith in this annulment," said the court. "A man cannot live with his wife eight months and talk of what happened before his marriage."

An incident occurred which shows the trend of the times. Mrs. Betty Herdick was testifying in behalf of Mr. Dukes. She is a very attractive young woman and wore on the stand a rakish hat that hid her face from Judge Crail. All judges judicially consider the faces of witnesses.

"Until styles change, women who are witnesses must stop wearing hats cocked over their eyes. I want to see the faces of witnesses or else change the witness box," he said.

GET DAY'S GRACE.

Income Tax Payers Given Benefit of Sunday by Collector.

By reason of the fact that the last day fixed by law for the payment of the second installment of the income tax, June 15, comes on Sunday this year, Collector Cartee announced yesterday that any payments made next Monday up to midnight of that day would be received, and the taxpayer would not be subject to the penalty attached to delinquency.

Any letter containing a check in payment of the tax that is put into the mail in time to reach the office of the collector up to midnight of Monday will be taken without protest.

Today is really the final day for the payment of the second installment, and the receipts do far indicate that hundreds of thousands of dollars are yet unaccounted for. It was the expectation of the collector that the payments would reach about $7,000,000 on account of the second installment, but there is much ground to be covered before that sum is reached. It is hoped that the heaviest payments will be made today, and to accommodate all who may desire to settle with the government the office of the collector will remain open until 1 p.m. Its usual closing hour on Saturday is noon.

DENTIST LOSES HIS SUIT ON LARGE BILL.

Dr. Frank A. Williams, a local dentist, has lost his appeal from a judgment in the Los Angeles Superior Court, to collect $550, alleged to be due from Annie and Solomon McDonald, for dental work done for the first named.

Dr. Williams brought an action in the lower court to collect his bill on the ground that the price had been agreed upon, and the court found against him; indicating that the work had not been done in the proper manner.

The appeal was taken on the assumption that the work was worth the amount charged in the bill, and it was alleged that this was another action and had not been adjudicated, and that the suits were not the same.

The Supreme Court holds that they are in effect the same, and the judgment of the Superior Court was affirmed.

TRIAL OF SAN DIEGO BANKER OFF TO FALL.

After many delays and postponements another date is to be set for the trial of C. L. Williams, the former San Diego banker, who is charged by a Federal indictment with the misappropriation and embezzlement of funds. The date fixed was June 27, but on account of the fact that Judge B. F. Bledsoe, who is to try the case, does not feel physically fit to embark in a hearing that is likely to last a month or six weeks in his present state of health, and the further fact that he is booked for an address before the Indiana State Bar Association at Indianapolis, on July 4, it has now been agreed that the case against Williams will be set when the September term of the United States District Court convenes in San Diego. United States District Attorney J. Robert O'Connor stated yesterday that he thought the case would be tried in September some time.

MAY MAKE SAWTELLE CROSSING SAFER.

Attention of the City Council was called by the Board of Public Works yesterday to the dangerous condition of the Pacific Electric Railway crossing at Pico boulevard and Military avenue, Sawtelle, where the company has two tracks about 100 feet apart, the tracks being about seventeen feet above the paving of the highway. It is recommended that these tracks be lowered, but in order to provide the proper grade the tracks will have to be relaid for a distance of 510 feet. The estimated cost is $2250, which the city will have to stand. The Council referred the matter to the Budget Committee.

TO CONCENTRATE TOMATOES HERE.

Hundred and Fifteen Thousand Cases of Them to be Stored at Harbor.

One Hundred and fifteen thousand cases of tomatoes, at present stored in various canneries in the State, will be transferred to the city warehouse in the outer harbor, according to word received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce. Movement of the tomatoes will start not later than today. The cases will occupy approximately 25,000 square feet of space.

The action is the result of efforts of the chamber's industrial bureau, which took up the matter some time ago with Col. George H. Penrose, depot quartermaster, and the Harbor Commission, from which the government leases the warehouse space.

BOY SCOUTS FINISH THEIR DRIVE TODAY.

SEVERAL HUNDRED MORE MEN AND WOMEN SIGN UP AS ASSOCIATES.

Several hundred more associate members rewarded the efforts of the Boy Scouts in the continuation of their drive yesterday, when particular attention was paid to the residential and industrial districts. The campaign will end tonight. Sergt. Francis Sheehan, one of the star Victory Bond speakers, got into the campaign last night and took a large number of memberships to headquarters.

An encouraging message was received by the Citizens' Committee from James E. West, chief national executive. C. N. Miller, national deputy field scout executive, who is here for the campaign, spoke highly of the splendid co-operation given by Los Angeles organizations.

Following the campaign the local organization will open the Camp Arthur Letts, in the Hollywood hills, where Scouts will enjoy vacations. Additions are being made to the camp. A practical scouting trip in the San Bernardino Mountains is being arranged and also a pack train trip across the mountains to the Mojave Desert and return.

GENERAL OFFICER OF MARINE CORPS HERE.

ADJUTANT SPEAKS WELL OF THIS CITY'S QUOTA OF "SOLDIERS OF SEA."

Brig.-Gen. C. H. Lauckeimer, adjutant-general of the United States Marine Corps, was a visitor in Los Angeles yesterday, arriving on a tour of inspection of the various camps and recruiting offices throughout the West.

Gen. Lauckeimer, who has been stationed at Washington, D. C., throughout the war, has had more knowledge of the entire operations of the "Devil-dogs" in this country and on the European battle front than perhaps any other officer. As to the part this city has played in these operations, through the large quota of young men who were among the first to select this branch of the service at the outbreak of the war, the general spoke heartily.

He stated that he found the local recruiting station, the only interest that brought him here, has made as good a showing as those in cities of much larger size in the East.

Today Gen. Lauckeimer will proceed to Seattle, Wash. He has been stopping at the Alexandria.

YOUTH OUT ON BAIL.

Had Been Brought Back From San Francisco With Girl.

Kenneth W. Fether, son of Mrs. E. A. Smith, of this city, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Brown on a statutory charge. He was released on $500 bail. The youth was brought back to Los Angeles in custody of Deputy Sheriff Cochran and the girl, Miss Blanche Esshom, with whom he was said to have gone to San Francisco, returned in company of her father, M. W. Esshom.

The father of the girl accused Fether and it was through his efforts and those of the police that the pair was located in San Francisco. The youth's preliminary hearing was set for July 8.

JEWS TO HOLD MASS PROTEST ON SUNDAY.

As a sequel to the protest march of thousands of Jews through the streets of the city on Wednesday, the Hebrew residents of Los Angeles will hold a big mass meeting at Clune's Auditorium at 2 p.m. tomorrow to still more emphatically object to the alleged persecution of Jews in the Slavic countries of Europe. The promoters of the meeting state that not only Hebrews, but all fair-minded Americans will be welcomed. It is believed that the assembly will be so large that overflow meetings will have to be held.

The meeting will be opened with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" on the organ. B. Cohen, the chairman of the conference, will then introduce Dr. Isidore Myers as chairman of the mass meeting. The organ will next play the "Hatickvo" (the Jewish hymn.) Mr. Weinstock, with a choir of fifty, will chant the traditional "Ale-Moley-Rachmim" (religious service after the dead.)

The speakers of the day are Dr. Martin Myers of San Francisco, Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Locke of the First Methodist church, Rev. Dr. James A. Francis of the First Baptist Church, Joseph Scott, Dr. Sigmund Haish, Dr. Werner, Dr. Rosenthal and Dr. Magnin. Optan St. Clair and C. Shapiro will speak in Yiddish.

FIRE DESTROYS DWELLING.

Fire last night destroyed a one-story and a half dwelling at 360 Willow avenue, Watts, occupied by Michael Catalina. Mrs. Catalina, who was in the house at the time, escaped. The loss will be $2000. Marshal Burger, in charge of the Watts apparatus, kept the fire from spreading to adjoining dwellings.

JESSE LASKY HERE.

ANNOUNCES NEW SYSTEM FOR BOOKING FILMS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Returning to Hollywood after a sojourn of several weeks in New York, Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, yesterday announced the adoption of a new policy in the making and distribution of Paramount and Artcraft pictures, which promises to result in even a wider circulation of these pictures than before, and a use of even greater care in the selection of the production work itself.

The new plan, which may be called "the selective booking system," is a veritable declaration of independence for the producing organization whereby it will be liberated from the tyranny of time. In making his announcement Mr. Lasky said:

"Motion pictures are not bits of machinery, but represent today a medium of free artistic expression and the artist suffers under the limitations of time just as does the great writer or great speaker. Our entire producing organization, although strained to the limit to make the best pictures brains and money could produce for the current season, turned to the task of preparing for the new plans months before there was any discussion in the trade of the probability or necessity of selective booking, or of each picture to stand on its own merit before the exhibitors and the public.

"The star series plan of the past two years has been highly successful and has paved the way for this preparatory work, and I make the unqualified statement that our sources of supply have been extended to an unlimited degree, and that only when a picture has had the utmost of skilled and experienced workmanship, unhampered by the necessity of haste that all too frequently results in slight imperfections, will we regard it as finished."

At least two hundred recent productions and those in the making and to be made are mentioned in the Lasky list, but lack of space forbids more than the mention of a few of them here, including "Peg O' My Heart," from J. Hartley Manners's play, with Wanda Hawley and Thomas Meighan in the leading roles; "The Misleading Widow," a vehicle for Billie Burke, adapted from her former play; "Billeted," from the play of that name, scenario by Frances Marion; "Mr. Barnes of New York," from A. C. Gunter's famous mystery story, to be produced by Thomas H. Ince; "It Pays to Advertise," Bryant Washburn's first picture under the new plan, from the highly successful play by Megrue and Hackett; "Young Mrs. Winthrop," by Bronson Howard, in which Ethel Clayton will star; "Every woman," from one of the most successful stage spectacles ever presented, to be produced with a group of twenty or thirty of the most beautiful young women in America in the cast; "In Mizzoura," Augustus Thomas' play, presented with Robert Warwick as star; "Sadie Love," Avery Hopwood's play, in which Billie Burke will star; "Huckleberry Finn," directed by William D. Taylor with an all-star cast; "Miss Hobbs," by Jerome K. Jerome, with Miss Clayton as star; "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," "Why Smith Left Home," "The Tree of Knowledge," with Robert Warwick, "The Sea Wolf," "The Mills of the Gods," by E. Phillips Oppenheim and scores of others.

William S. Hart Returns.

William S. Hart returns today with his company from New Orleans, where he has been making scenes for his current picture, the story of which is by C. Gardner Sullivan. Accompanying Mr. Hart, beside members of his company, is his sister, Mamie Hart. The remaining scenes of the picture will be made in Hollywood.

Concerning Mr. Hart's new contract to be signed on the expiration of his agreement with Artcraft, July 12, it is announced from the Hart studio that he will probably have some word to give out within a couple of weeks as to his future plans.

Jack Pickford Negotiating.

Jack Pickford is in New York, and it is rumored he is to sign up with Louis Selznick, of Select Pictures Corporation, the same firm which has Jack Pickford's wife, Olive Thomas.

Daily Meow.

Away from distant London comes a clipping from Fannie Ward, taken from the London Star, to the effect that Miss Ward's new home is right in the heart of Mayfair, and that she has the Duchess of Bedford for a neighbor on one side, while on the other dwell the Gunters, pastrycooks. Dear me, how handy for Miss Ward when she gives an affair!

Modern Mixwhers.

And now it is rumored Madge Kennedy has declared to friends here that unless Goldwyn will allow her to work in New York, she may retire from film work, due to her desire not to be separated from her husband, Capt. Harold Bolster, whose profession keeps him in the eastern metropolis.

It is likely, however, that all differences will be adjusted, and that Miss Kennedy will be permitted to make her pictures in New York, where she will be able to eat breakfast and dinner with her hubby.

PLAY AND EXHIBITS AT THE STATE NORMAL.

Today is "homecoming day" for the alumni of the Los Angeles State Normal School. Many events of unusual interest have been planned, among them being a pageant play, "The Trojan Women," to be presented by the student body of the Normal. "The Trojan Women" will have its first presentation this afternoon at 2:15 in the Assembly Hall, and will be repeated the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday at 8:15.

The art gallery of the school will be utilized for an exhibition of wood-blocks and sketches by Arthur Wesley Dow, famous teacher and lecturer from Columbia University. Mr. Dow has been in Los Angeles for some weeks, and has already given a lecture on the primitive art of America and the Orient, at Cumnock School. He was recently entertained by the print makers of Los Angeles in the studio of Benjamin Chambers Brown, in Pasadena.

Other exhibitions at the Normal are: Paintings by Miss Anna Pamela Brooks, Room 201; paintings by Mrs. Louise Pinckney Sooy, Room 207; student work, recent problems in drawing and painting and design in Miss Chandler's and Miss Delano's classes, Room 203; photographs used in teaching, Room 204; student activities, in Rooms 205 and 206, students working on costumes and properties for the afternoon play.

MAE MARSH A MOTHER.

Daughter Is Born in New York to Motion Picture Star.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—A daughter was born this afternoon at the lying-in hospital here to Mae Marsh, the movie star, who was the original Griffith girl. The baby has already been named Mary Marsh Arms. Miss Marsh is the wife of Louis Lee Arms, a newspaper man, to whom she was married last September.

The wedding of Miss Marsh and Mr. Arms was kept secret for several months. At the time it occurred Mr. Arms was in the naval aviation service and Miss Marsh was starring in the West with the Goldwyn organization. When Mr. Arms was released from the service after the signing of the armistice he joined his wife on the Coast and cards were sent out announcing the marriage. Miss Marsh was the star in Griffith's "Birth of a Nation." She expects to return to the screen in October. Mr. and Mrs. Arms are residing at Forest Hills, Long Island.

HARDWARE DEALER MISSING.

J. H. Watson of 5800 Pasadena avenue is anxiously seeking the whereabouts of his brother-in-law, Elijah H. McVey, a hardware dealer, of 1519 Glenandale place, who on Thursday night for some reason unknown left his home and has not since returned. So far as known the missing man had no business troubles and his domestic relations were happy. Mr. McVey has a wife and son, the latter being in the American Army in France.

RECIPROCITY.

There are six thousand foreign missionaries in China; but what a riot it would start at Sacramento if China proposed to send six thousand missionaries to this country.

DOESN'T HELP.

Both sides agree that membership in a union doesn't add a single peg to the efficiency of the workman. It may increase the capacity of his voice—but not of his hands.

NOT MUCH CHANCE.

It is breathing no secret to assert that no man will ever gain the Presidency of the United States on the strength of his opposition to the covenant of the League of Nations.

NOTHING BUT LEAVES.

Fiber is now spun from the leaves of the pineapple and it can be made into soft, beautiful and enduring garments. After all, perhaps it was in this way that Eve obtained her first Easter gown.

IN ITS STEAD.

It is claimed that for centuries the saloon has been used by many as a substitute for the home and therefore there is no valid reason why the home should not now become the substitute for the saloon. We are living in an era of substitutes.

GOOD BOY, OLE.

It didn't take Mayor Ole Hanson long to put a crimp in the plan for a Mooney day in Seattle wherein it was proposed to sell tags on the street for the benefit of some sort of a fund for the convicted bomb-thrower. In a plethora of tag days here was one for which no plausible excuse could be offered and it didn't take the redoubtable Ole long to say so.

SONG AND DANCE.

The masters of dancing are horrified at their own handiwork. When they look at the "shimmy," the "good nightie" and other footsome frolics they are inclined to go behind the palms in the conservatory and have a quiet blush. At their convention at Atlantic City this week they rather attempted to pass the buck to the song writers. They said if it were not for the suggestive lines of the composers the cabarets and other performers would not undress in public to the feverish accompaniment of the dance. But an interpretive dance, if it is to interpret the title of some of the songs which are now being brought forth, must begin with the girl removing her hair pins and leave her with nothing much on but the glow of passion and the mantle of charity. Now the dancing masters are trying to stem the current of indelicacy. They denounce all but the staple and standard forms of dancing. Even the fox trot is banned and the song writers are urged, for the love of Mike, to be decent.

But this is expecting too much. The average topical song, with its twinkle-toed accompaniment, can no more be modest than a vampire can be content with rye bread and horse radish.

It is nice, however, to note that even the dancing masters are raving against the lobsters who write their country's songs.

CANADA CULTIVATES US.

Canada is dealing expeditiously with her after-the-war problems. It is evident from the budget speech recently delivered in the House of Commons at Ottawa that the government is seeking to cope with the high cost of living, is anxious to encourage immigration and wishes to cultivate the friendship of the United States.

The relations between Canada and this country have, generally speaking, been of the happiest for many years. Canada affords a large market for American products, and measures announced by Sir Thomas White, the Finance Minister, will tend to broaden it. The outstanding feature of his budget statement was that the duties on many agricultural implements are to be reduced from 27 per cent. to 15 per cent. As Canada must look to the United States for most of these implements the growth in business which is expected to result from this reduction will benefit this country as well as the farmers of Western Canada, who demanded a substantial reduction in the duties.

It is noteworthy, also, that the preferential tariff in favor of Great Britain, which existed before the war, has been lowered in several instances. This places United States exporters in a more favorable position to obtain Canadian business.

The tariff reductions proposed by the Borden government are interesting because of the fact that they are proposed by the leaders of a party which is strongly protectionist. The party has not abandoned that policy, but it recognizes that it must look to the United States for many articles it will need in the reconstruction period and must allow those articles to enter the country as cheaply as possible. As its own agricultural implement industries are not large enough to warrant protection at this time, under the special circumstances the conservatives are not afraid to change their traditional policy for the time being.

LOYAL EMPLOYEES.

No strike in recent years has met with a more conspicuous failure than that by which the Commercial Telegraphers' Union sought to force closed-shop conditions upon the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies. The strike was planned to be nation-wide and every wire of both companies was to remain dead until the labor-union bosses should be placed in control. How completely these plans miscarried is disclosed by the fact that every wire of both companies was operating yesterday in every part of the country.

So signal a failure was not registered without contributory causes. The Western Union has an association of 25,000 employees, and it is claimed that not a single one of those associated employees walked out. In addition about 1000 members of the Telegraphers' Union were working for the company, and the strike was limited to these men. Adhering to the true open-shop principle, the company made no distinction between union and nonunion. Many of the members of the union refused to strike and withdrew their membership; for no man who belonged to the Telegraphers' Union could remain at work, and to quit work meant to forfeit all the benefits which accrue to Western Union employees.

There is a lesson in this strike which every employer would do well to take to heart. Those 25,000 employees remained faithful to the Western Union because every one of them is a quasi stockholder in the company and participates in the company's profits whenever the wires are outside Federal control. On the company's books each employee is now registered as a stockholder, for dividend-paying purposes, for the amount of his annual pay. An employee who receives $2000 a year receives dividend payments in that amount, in addition to his regular monthly pay. He is on the same basis as an outsider who holds $2000 of the company's stock.

Asking those men to quit work was equivalent to asking them to strike against themselves. The only dissatisfaction among the employees of all sorts has been during the period of government control. That profit-sharing plan was in effect when the government took over the telegraph wires. Postmaster-General Burleson announced that it could not be continued, because it was against public policy for the government to pay bonuses. As soon as the wires go back to their private owners the employees become de facto stockholders again. That order of the Postmaster-General was, in reality, unnecessary; for, under Federal operation, there never are any profits. Government operation has never produced anything but deficits.

Employees of the Postal Telegraph Company are also permitted to benefit in the profits of the company; and it is this mutual benefit association between employers and employees which made the telegraph companies proof against union-labor attacks. The Telegraphers' Union is not popular among the employees, for the reason that the union men hold their allegiance elsewhere. They are sworn to work for the interest of the union first. Because there was a dispute in Georgia the union men in Los Angeles were ordered to leave their keys, to throw up their insurance, to give up their participation in the company's profits, to try to wreck the very business from which they received a livelihood.

An employer whose workmen are made quasi stockholders in the business for the purpose of participating in its profits will not find many cases of sabotage or slacking, nor is he likely to have his business disturbed by strikes. In such a shop or plant the walking delegate of the labor unions will receive a chilling welcome; the employees will hesitate to place their necks under the yoke of unionism, to surrender their right of independent action.

Freedom is impossible in every shop or plant where the workmen hold their jobs at the pleasure of some foreign labor-union potentate. When a man in Los Angeles must cease work at the order of the head of some labor-union organization thousands of miles from here, that man works not as a freeman, but in servitude. The same servitude extends to the employer who must run his business according to the dictates of the walking delegates.

The Times holds that the right of association and collective bargaining should never be denied to employees. Associations among the workmen have been powerful instruments for improving working conditions. But the most successful associations have been those patterned after the plan of the Western Union association of employees. No one not actually employed by the Western Union Company can be a member. The men object themselves to taking a member of the Telegraphers' Union into their association, for the very reason that he cannot give to it first allegiance.

Wherever an employer gives to his employees the very best terms that the business will permit in wages, in working conditions and in division of profits—when there are profits to divide—there is to be found a contented shop; and contentment is the best antidote against labor-unionitis.

It is reported that more than 5000 new oil companies have been formed recently with a total capitalization of more than $1,500,000,000, the most of them being wildcat enterprises. Oil speculation has succeeded "war brides." In one instance a company advertised an oil putput larger than the combined oil production of the entire country for the past year.

Brace up! The per capita debt of the United States exclusive of the obligations of our allies is only $300. That of Great Britain is $800, and the per capita debt of France is $950 for every man, woman and child in the republic. Germany's wealth before the war was but $80,000,000,000, as against $500,000,000,000 for the people of the United States.

Dr. Frederick Whitney, who is the first contestant for the $50,000 prize offered for an airplane trip from Los Angeles to Sydney, Australia, says he can make the journey in six days if he has no trouble of any kind. And under the circumstances that "if" is the biggest word in Webster's Unabridged.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be presented in the shape of a moving picture by the "drys." How many reels?

"YOUNG AND EXPERIENCED."

Quite the most amazing advertisement we have seen in a newspaper lately was that one which appeared the other day voicing the crying need of a well-to-do family for help.

"Wanted," said the advertisement, "a young, experienced woman, good, plain cook, for general housework and to assist in care of child in bungalow."

It would seem that the simple faith which in a far-off time made the world a happy place has not yet wholly departed from it, pessimists to the contrary notwithstanding.

Take this advertisement, analyze it and then go out for a year and a day and see if you can find anywhere between the two tumbling oceans in this man's country a female person willing to respond to it.

We are willing to lay a reckless wager of a dollar against a doughnut that you cannot.

In the first place, where now can you find a young woman experienced in cooking, general housework and the care of children? The thing is clearly paradoxical in this enlightened age of movies and the complete success of the "leave-it-to-mother" movement.

It may be true that our grandmothers were experienced in those things when they were young women, but it is not the case now. The experiences of young women in this generation run in another direction. Cooking is left to cooks who work in delicatessen stores, cafeterias and restaurants; general housework is left to the Jap who works for a syndicate of the neighbors, and the care of children in bungalows does not particularly appeal to young women who are not tied down to that kind of a job by children of their own, which is not generally the case.

It appeared further in the advertisement that the family in question stood ready to pay $50 a month and "found" to any young woman who would take up the dare.

Now, when you come to think of it, $50 a month, with board and lodging thrown in, ought not to be considered at all bad.

But are young women falling over themselves and crowding the mourners to grab the millions of jobs of that kind that are open? Not on your life.

The fact that Abraham Lincoln's mother washed and ironed his shirts and cooked his meals and washed and wiped the dishes, too; and the fact that Martha Washington darned and mended her husband's stockings cuts no ice with the young woman of today.

You see, there were no movies in the days of Nancy Hanks, nor were there cabarets and jazz dances when Martha Washington was a young woman. They had plenty of time on their hands to look after their children.

But it is different in these times. The fashion now is to make life as short and as easy as possible.

And maybe this would be all right if the young women of this generation would weigh things judiciously. Surely it is an easier job to do the general housework in a good family and to be chummy with the baby thereof for $50 a month and found than it could possibly be to stand on one's feet all day in a store for $10 a week or less and try to buy clothes and pay room rent and eat out of that.

What has come over the world, anyway, that young women no longer consider housework respectable?

There are few of all these young women who turn up their noses at an offer like this who wouldn't take a running jump at almost any man offering to marry her. And what kind of wife would that kind of young woman make?

Every once in a while, and sometimes oftener, you will read in the papers the heart-rending story of some young woman who fainted in the street of sheer hunger. And at the Receiving Hospital it will also be found that she was turned out of her room because she couldn't pay the rent. In the face of all that, wouldn't you think that she would apply for the position offered in the advertisement we have quoted—a good home, considerate treatment, the washing all done at the laundry, plenty to eat, adored by the baby and cared for by the family as though she were one of its own?

If you think so, you have another think coming.

What this young woman and almost all the other young women walking the streets of a great city, hungry and homeless, want is to be movie actresses as first choice, and after that something either romantic or extremely stylish. As a rule, they dote on some kind of "art."

Quite the most impossible thing to get in this whole country today is household help. Washing dishes is regarded with horror and cooking as slavery—babies are pests.

There are thousands of families in every State of the Union who are forced to live in hotels because they can't hire anybody for love or money to do the housework for them in homes where they long to be, but which they were compelled to desert for the reason stated.

The only hope in sight is that somebody will invent an automatic machine which will do these things that young women now refuse to do.

We have no doubt, however, that the advertisement in question met with success, for the sole reason that it appeared in The Times. It has come to be a proverb that "Times want ads." work miracles.

GERMANY AND THE TREATY.

Not a new treaty, but the old treaty in a new dress, is the document that the German commissioners will receive from the Peace Conference on Monday. The Council of Four has decided that the modifications made at the suggestion of Germany shall not be accepted as amendments to the original text, but that the verbiage of the treaty shall be so changed that it will be in accord with the compromises adopted.

Since the German commissioners have evinced a sincere willingness to sign a treaty binding Germany to reparations and guarantees, the Allied commissioners have agreed in turn to make as many modifications as the safety of free peoples will permit. There is an evident desire on their part not to humiliate the German commissioners and make them odious to the German people. While the Allies are in position to enforce any terms they may see fit to exact, the Supreme Council is mindful that it is a treaty of justice and not of vengeance that the world desires. They have no wish to deprive the German people of the hope of continuing to be a great nation; but they are making it plain that the greatness must be along industrial and not military lines.

There was a grave danger that the present German government would be overthrown if its representatives signed the original treaty. And the treaty would be of little value if the government by which it was accepted were to fall. The Council of Four has agreed to many modifications in language BUT NONE IN PRINCIPLE. The German commissioners can claim that they succeeded in getting better terms than those originally proposed, and the Allied people can rest confident in the assurance that no principle has been abandoned to political exigencies.

Paris cables continue to use the term, Council of Four, in referring to the recent deliberations. This seems to indicate that Italy is still sulking.

The Huns will get the counter reply of the Allies on Friday, June 13. What do you think of that date for a hoodoo?

Civil war is raging in Ireland, according to report. Won't it make the Irish hot under the collar if David Lloyd George pays no attention to the outbreak?

RIPPLING RHYMES.

JUNETIME.

How beautiful this old world is along about this time of year. I look around and cry, "Gee whiz!
It makes me glad just to be here!
I would not give a picayune for one who lets the teardrops leak; these are the famous days of June, of which the well-known poets speak."
In all the ages bards have spieled about this season's joys and charms, have sung the lilies of the field and handed nosegays to the farms. Inspired by June, the poet squirms and, like the groundhog, leaves his hole and chants a lay in ringing terms, with all the fervor of his soul. And though we pelt the bard with bricks, because we're down on odes and things, he voices thoughts that we poor hicks can't give expression when he sings. In June we all would poets be, if we knew how to handle lyres; the brooks, the woods, the flowery lea, all serve to light poetic fires. Emotions strange our bosoms thrill; we wish we had a harp or pen and we'd embalm the sunlit hill, the zephyr singing through the glen. We'd like to voice the thoughts that throng about the landscape and the skies; we strive to plan a noble song and end by saying, "Dern the flies!"

WALT MASON.

OLD GLORY'S NATAL DAY.

BY CARL ALLEE BUNDY.

Reaching out into the BLUE of heaven, they plucked the eternal service STARS of freedom's making.

Dipping into the heart throbs of sacrificing and courageous souls, they brought forth the crimson price of RED, with which they dyed, in equal measure, the WHITE purity of liberty's cause.

Thus did that new emblem of the rights of men evolve from the creative minds of the people. Thus did they bring into being the material form of the nation's spirit.

During the Congressional hours of June 14, 1777, 142 years back in the calendar of our country, this beloved flag came into its own, and fittingly, had been christened the Stars and Stripes, by which name it is known and loved at home and abroad.

Old Glory is visualized freedom.

Since 1777 its animated form, filled with the spirit of liberty, has been signaling to the downtrodden and weaker peoples, assuring all of its healing powers in national strife, if they will but look up at it and serve its principle unselfishly and loyally.

This grand old flag has so faithfully led the people westward in their exploits of a new vision and their untarnished establishment of a "government of the people, by the people, for the people" that it is now granted the supreme privilege and honor of flying across the sea into foreign lands—

Where it has been the spirit of hope, when the fires burned low—
Where it has been the spirit of strength, when the defense was breaking—
Where it has been the spirit of trust, when confidence was needed—
Where it has been the spirit of service, when unselfishness was akin to godliness—
Where it has been the spirit of accomplishment, when action was paramount—
Where it has been the spirit of manna, when starvation stalked—
Where it has been the spirit of fearlessness, when duty called—
Where it has been the spirit of sacrifice, when the sin of arrogance threatened liberty—
Where it has been the spirit of giving, when nothing was to be taken in return—
Where it has been the spirit of victory, when defeat was lengthening its shadow—
Where it has been the spirit of love, when hate opposed.

Oh, flag of our country—RED, WHITE and BLUE, the hope of nations just born, the ideal of peoples grown gray, may you live on and on. May you wave in the breezes of the North, South, East and West, and may your Spirit of Liberty be spared unto this people for generations yet unborn, and may your beautiful features fade not, nor your spirit depart.

"And this be our motto: 'In God is our trust!'
And the Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

I have long wanted a fuzzy brown
Hat. Last week I discovered a
Fuzzy brown hat in Epstein Bro-Thers' window and I looked at it
Every morning as I went to work,
And Saturday night I took my Wife and went around that way to Get the fuzzy brown hat, and
There was another fuzzy hat in
The window which was green, and
My wife liked the looks of the Fuzzy green hat, and she argued
With me to buy IT, and I argued
With her to let me buy the fuzzy
Brown hat, and she argued and I
Argued, and in a few minutes
There was quite a crowd gather-Ed to watch us argue and one of The Epstein Brothers grew alarm-
Ed and came and put the curtains
Down, and a policeman came along
And ordered the crowd to go a-Bout their business and made us
Tell him what the argument was
About, and he advised us to com-
Promise the matter and we com-
Promised the matter and I bought
The fuzzy green hat.

THREL FALL.

THE Q.M.

Old Papa Q.M. has been kicked in the pants. He has been kicked so hard at times that he didn't feel like carrying on. But still he did carry on; he went out and rustled candy for little Buck, who almost cried his eyes out because he didn't get it; he went out in the field and gave Sam a better pair of shoes so his feet wouldn't hurt, and he managed in most cases to make a liberal distribution of francs the first of each month. But Papa Q.M. got kicked just the same by his big grown-up sons. He was the subject of many a discussion around the squad stove, in billets and dugouts.

Papa Q.M., however, is now sitting back and wondering if his children are going to love him more as the years roll by. When the final airing came it was discovered that all the other Allied papas didn't provide for their families nearly as well as he did. After all, he says, the kicking he got didn't hurt much.—[Stars and Stripes.

Headstrong Lizzie.

Jack Wittenburg has a tin Lizzie that has turned several flip-flops and made several tail-spins since he has owned her, but the climax came the other day when she climbed a tree. Jack was delivering groceries, and when opposite a retaining wall Lizzie suddenly and without warning veered her course and headed for the retaining wall, went over it and landed in the top of a convenient shade tree. Jack "cooned" it down the tree and got to earth without a scratch. He then built a platform and had to back Lizzie down, and found her only damage was a broken radius rod.—[Lexington News.

SO LONG, SCHOOL!

Good-by, good-by, to the study!
And tedious conjugations!
Adieu, adieu! we have gone through
Our last examinations!
Farewell, farewell to the

Of cube root and quadratics!
We'll trade our books for

And revel in aquatics!
Yes, au revoir to the desk

Deep-scarred by our slingers!
Upon your face we've hurled no
And square hypotenuses!
The slate is clean—and between
We never shall remember
The half we learn, and return—
Good-by, then, to Summer!

PAIR IN RACE FOR ANNULMENT.

Hubby Hot Foots to Court and Beats Wife, Who had Another Mate.

A race to reach the Courthouse first to file suits to annul their marriage was won by Fred I. Monkhouse yesterday. Shortly after he asked to have his marriage to Pansy I. Monkhouse annulled, the latter filed her suit. He charges, and she admits, she had another husband living, Charles Prior, from whom she had not received a final decree of divorce when she married Mr. Monkhouse. An interlocutory decree was granted in the Prior case, but the final decree was not entered. The Monkhouse couple were married in this city August 20, 1914.

HIGH HONORS ARE PAID "OLD GLORY."

FLAG DAY WILL BE OBSERVED THROUGHOUT CITY WITH NOTABLE EXERCISES.

Today is Flag Day throughout the United States. Flag Day is not a national day, decreed by law, but has grown up through custom which has spread from State to State throughout the country.

"There never was a time when greater cause for happiness for what Old Glory stands for than now," says a statement issued yesterday by the local Sons of the Revolution. "All loyal citizens and peace-loving visitors in this country should pay the respect they owe our flag for the blessings that are to be found under its standards.

"Flags should be flown from all homes and buildings in the country. New flags only should be used when possible, while such flags as have become worn or ragged should be quietly burned, which will prevent misuse and abuse of the emblem of our country."

At Moose Hall, 111 West Third street, last night, an interesting patriotic programme was carried out by Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, and Auxiliary No. 5, United Spanish War Veterans, with a large attendance.

Grand Army men, with the members of the Women's Auxiliary of Stanton Post, No. 16, G.A.R., had an unusually fine observance, last night of Flag Day. A special feature of the programme was the "Tribute to the Flag," rendered by Mrs. Lee Chamberlain (Frances Richardson, the "flag lady.")

FOR BURIAL FUND.

Public Service Employees Plan Relief for Bereaved.

Approval was given by the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday to the plan of employees of the public service department to create what will be known as the department of public service mortuary fund. It is proposed that the membership will be voluntary, but from 400 to 500 employees have indicated their intention to support the fund. It is proposed that each of these voluntary members pay $1 on the first pay day after the plan is officially adopted, to be placed in a mortuary fund. Upon a death, the money in the fund goes for the funeral expenses, and on the next pay day following, another assessment of $1 each is made, so that a fund may be constantly maintained.

SAYS CITY'S LOSING TWO THOUSAND A DAY.

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood yesterday told the Board of Public Service Commissioners that each day's delay in completing Power Plant No. 2 means a loss to the city of approximately $2000 worth of power that could be sold. The time of opening bids on machinery and equipment for this power plant was changed from the 27th inst. to first day of July. Advertisement for bids for hydraulic lift gates, to control the flow of tunnels at Power Plant No. 2, was authorized by the board. It is estimated that these gates, installed, will cost approximately $25,000.

PHONES FIRE FROM AIR.

R. H. Charlton, forest supervisor, received a telephone message from a balloonist 3000 feet in the air yesterday, notifying him of a fire back of Glendora. The fire was a small one and easily quenched. The message was received from an observer attached to the Ross Balloon School at Arcadia.

CLAMPS LID DOWN ON VENICE CHANCE GAMES

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SAYS SOME WERE JUST AS BAD AS STACKED CARDS.

Following an investigation of supposed games of chance at beach resorts, particularly at Venice, by Thomas H. Griffin, former Chief of Police of Venice, and recently appointed a county investigator after his removal as chief, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday issued a sweeping order to close all games that have any element of chance in them.

Among the games which are thus placed on the ban are such as Teddy Bear, Kewpie Doll, Lolly Joy, the "country store," two-ball roll down, revolving roll down, spot game, string games and a lot of other games which are declared by Mr. Woolwine to be ones of chance.

The order becomes effective at once, according to Mr. Woolwine. He said that Mr. Griffin's report showed that several games paid $100 a day without the loss of a prize.

Mr. Woolwine yesterday received a letter from certain Venice residents indorsing this appointment of Thomas H. Griffin, ex-chief of the Venice police, as special investigator of such games.

STATEMENT IS MADE FOR MRS. BATCHELDER.

UNBOUNDED CONFIDENCE GIVEN HER BY CHURCH PASTORS IN TRIBUTE.

Expressing unbounded confidence in Mrs. Batchelder, whose husband figured in the Collins wife pact shooting, the present and former pastors of the First Free Methodist Church, of which she is a member, yesterday issued the following statement:

In the light of recent and startling events that have occurred in this city, it seems proper and right that a brief statement should be made concerning Mrs. Batchelder, wife of J. D. Batchelder, who was recently shot on the street in Los Angeles.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. Batchelder is a member in good standing in the First Free Methodist Church of Los Angeles, that she has the unbounded confidence of those who knew her and that she is regarded both as a noble woman whose character is far above reproach and also as a genuine Christian such as any church or community would be pleased to welcome and honor.

Let us not forget that heaven's gold is often tried in the fire and that the testing only proves that the gold is genuine.

This statement is made for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with Mrs. Batchelder, for so far as we can learn, she already has the confidence and heartfelt sympathy of all who know her.

[Signed] Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Lamson, pastors of the First Free Methodist Church; Rev. and Mrs. B. C. Johnson, former pastors.

BRITISH VICTORY LOAN TO BE FOUR PER CENT.

LONDON, June 12.—The government's Victory Loan, the details of which were made known this evening, will consist of a 4 per cent. "The Victory bonds" are a novel inducement to quick subscriptions, in that the first half yearly dividend will be in varying degrees larger as application and allotments are made before June 21, June 28, July 5 and July 12.

The loans are for unlimited amounts. The whole funding loan will be redeemed in 1990, but the government reserves the right to redeem the bonds any time after May, 1960, by giving three months' notice.

BOARD STANDS FIRM FOR MERIT SYSTEM.

BEST COUNTY SHOPMEN TO BE PAID, SUPERVISORS TELL UNIONITES.

Three labor union representatives heard the Supervisors yesterday flatly declare themselves on the merit system. The discussion arose when the union representatives wanted the Supervisors to increase the pay of all the skilled labor in the county shops and garages from $5.50 to $6 a day. This action was taken after the Supervisors had raised the pay of four machinists from $5.50 to $6 a day.

"As long as we pay the standard wage," said Supervisor Bean, with whom Supervisor Cogswell agreed, "to all of the men, we have a perfect right to pay other men more money when they are worth it. The four machinists who were raised above the standard wage are exceptionally good men."

"In what way are they exceptional?" asked one of the union men.

"That's up to the heads employing them; not up to the men. If they are not satisfied with their positions, they always have a remedy by getting another job."

"That's not a remedy," was the reply of the unionites.

"It is a good remedy," retorted Mr. Bean. "As long as we are paying our men good wages, we reserve the privilege of paying one man more than another, provided, in our judgment, the man is worth it."

At the suggestion of the union delegates, Mr. Bean moved, and Mr. Cogswell seconded a motion to obtain the rates paid in establishments where power is employed. The motion was carried.

It was before the Council for passage yesterday, being recalled from the Public Welfare Committee, but President Farmer voted in the negative, in order that the church organizations might have opportunity to be present when final action is taken.

HUSBAND AND OTHER WOMAN ADMIT IT ALL.

FRANKLY CONCEDING THEY HAD BEEN CHUMMY, WIFE IS GIVEN DIVORCE.

Mrs. Geneva Von Slyck, one of the pretty girls with Kolb and Dill comedians, sat beside her ex-husband, Kennett Von Slyck, in Judge Taft's court yesterday, playing the role of co-respondent in the divorce suit of Mrs. Katherine B. Bradish against James L. Bradish, son of the late Police Capt. Bradish.

She laughed and chatted with Mr. Von Slyck, smiled slightly as he testified she had admitted to him that she had stayed at the St. Marks Hotel, Venice, at the time Mr. Bradish was there, and then took the stand and admitted it herself. To cap the climax, Mr. Bradish admitted the fact, and the further fact that he had gone to Fresno with Mrs. Von Slyck. The decree asked for was granted.

Mrs. Bradish devoted a large portion of her testimony to reciting her husband's alleged proneness for going out at nights and leaving her alone, statements of bill collectors, and debts piling up.

Mr. Bradish was formerly with Lasky's studio, and Mrs. Bradish found in their home photographs of a number of pretty girls, some of whom had corresponded with Mr. Bradish, seeking jobs. In addition to naming Mrs. Von Slyck, Mrs. Bradish charged cruelty.

Mr. Bradish will receive a half interest in the $30,000 estate of his father, the estate being now ready to distribute. The court said he would allow the attorneys to agree as to the property settlement.

COLLECTED WITHOUT MAYOR'S KNOWLEDGE.

SO WITNESS QUOTES KARR AT HENDERSON TRIAL—DENIES HUGHES STORY.

The trial yesterday in Judge Willis's court of George Henderson, accused of giving a bribe for supposed police protection, was featured by repeated denials of the main points of testimony of Horace W. Karr, former Examiner reporter, and George S. Brown, negro politician, by witnesses for the defense. Karr and Brown are the main witnesses for the prosecution.

The most striking denial was that of Burl Armstrong, San Francisco newspaper man, who asserted that Karr did not broach to Thomas Hughes the subject of collecting from gamblers for Mayor Woodman's campaign when Hughes was in Sacramento. Mr. Armstrong said he was present during Karr's conversation with Mr. Hughes. He also said that Karr asked him to come to Los Angeles and that he (Karr) was going to make $15,000, and it would all be his (Karr's.) The witness said that he asked if the Mayor knew about it, and Karr replied: "What the hades does he have to know for?"

Owen McAleer denied that Karr had discussed the subject of a campaign fund with the witness. Tom Wah, a Chinaman, denied that he paid Karr $200 for police protection, as asserted by Karr. Warren L. Williams, an attorney, denied statements made by Brown. Harry E. Andrews, managing editor of The Times, testified that Karr was a political reporter.

The trial was continued to Monday, when the defense will probably rest.

Cowie, U.S.N., inviting her to be present at New York City on July 4 and raise aloft on the battleship Texas the George Washington pennant which the vessel won for selling the largest amount of Liberty Bonds of any ship in the American navy. COAL IS ITALY'S GREATEST NEED.

Wonderful Opening for American Trade is Seen.

England's Prices Far Better than Those We Quote.

Transition Finds Business Men Highly Optimistic.

BY ARTHUR E. MANN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, June 12.—Italy needs iron, steel, cotton, and petroleum; above all coal. The coal is the key to the whole situation just now. Italy is fearfully short of all these things, particularly coal. It is too short of food to export any in exchange for necessary raw materials.

An attempt was made recently to arrange exportation of olive oil and the higher-priced cheese from this country to America in exchange for cheaper American food and raw materials. But the Italians said they needed all the oil and cheese for themselves, so the plan fell through. Cherries, plenty of them, from South Italy, are about all the country is doing in the exporting line at present.

The coal situation is not encouraging. At the Inter-Allied conference in Paris it was arranged that England was to supply Italy with sufficient coal and cargo to help it along for a time. But on account of labor troubles, shortage of miners and also because of her own unfulfilled demands, England has not provided nearly the amount promised. Despite this, British coal dealers are quoting prices to Italy today lower than the Americans, who are in a better position to fill orders, except for the shortage of ships.

CHANCE FOR AMERICA.

Americans here think this is a great chance for the United States dealers to step in and build up a large coal trade with Italy. Italy must get its coal either from America or England. Neither France nor Germany is able to spare any. America has the advantage over England in everything except cost of transport.

At present the Italians are attracted by lower prices the English dealers are offering, also by occasional cut prices by which they can get a small amount of coal, a supply which is very limited and uncertain. For instance, a Scandinavian steamer, chartered to carry American munitions from France to the United States, returns via Italy with a cargo which is sold here at unusually low prices. This price then becomes in the minds of the Italians, the price for which they ought to be able to contract for a steady and large supply.

A shortage of tonnage also is operating now against Italy getting coal. Freight rates are high and shipowners do not like to send vessels to Italy, whence they have to return almost empty on account of the lack of Italian exports.

PLANS GO FORWARD.

But despite all these handicaps and the present unfavorable economic outlook, Italian business men are making plans looking to better times. During the war many industrial manufacturing plants were enormously expanded for the production of munitions. Now many of these large plants are stranded in the slack changeover period between war and peace production. But efforts are being made to manufacture articles formerly largely imported, typewriters and agricultural machinery.

An Italian typewriter is now being made which closely resembles the Underwood, but which some examiners say will not stand as much hard work. The Romeo company of Milan is making farm tractors said to be an exact copy—bolt for bolt, nut for nut—of the Titan tractor manufactured by the International Harvester Company. They plan to turn out fifty a week.

Such manufacturing ventures as these at present are possible, even if an article of inferior make is higher priced than that formerly imported because the war-time importation embargo still holds. Italy's ability to compete in the manufacture of such articles may hold up when the pre-war freedom of commerce is resumed.

TWO MAY BENEFIT.

When that day arrives it is expected Italy at once will renew extensive trading relations with Germany. The present tendency of Italian commercial and financial men is to do as much buying as possible from Germany, the Rumanians and the states of old Austro-Hungary, and all the selling they can to the Allies. By this means they will buy from countries where the exchange favors them, thus paying less than normally. In selling they will get the benefit of receiving money worth more than their own.

NO CYPRESS AVENUE WORK.

Condemnation proceedings for the acquirement of land for the opening and widening of Cypress avenue are set for hearing in the Superior Court for the 18th inst., but yesterday Ben S. Hunter, representative of the parties interested in securing the improvement, appeared before the City Council and asked for abandonment of all proceedings. This was done on the grounds that recent court rulings have indicated that the cost of the land would be too high for the benefits to be derived from the proposed improvement. The Council agreed to abandon all proceedings if the property owners pay all costs incurred.

FOR DAY NURSERY.

The Delta Kappa Phi Sorority has planned an attractive garden fete, to be given for St. Elizabeth's Day Nursery, June 28, at Mrs. J. J. Haggarty's home, 2330 West Adams. Mrs. Sidney Warren Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Hook, Mrs. Frank Farrell, Miss Mary Haggarty, Miss Jane Shafer, Miss Mary Paterson and Miss Ruth Keller are working to make it a charming affair.

BARGE CANALS.

Both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Wish to Connect with Lake.

Cities along the Atlantic shore line of the United States have been hearing from time to time about Chicago's hopeful expectation of a deepened channel way to the Mississippi River and so on to the Gulf. There is such an open way at present, though only for shallow draft barges. There are two other schemes for making barge routes from the Big Lakes southward to the navigable waters flowing into the Mississippi River, to which eastern attention has not been so frequently directed.

There is a $250,000 Congressional appropriation to defray the cost of a survey for a barge canal to extend from Lake Erie to a connection with the Ohio River. Both Pittsburgh and Cincinnati are interested in this proposed survey, but there is not a community of interest. The route that Cincinnati wants is different from that which Pittsburgh is seeking—the nearest points of approach of the two routes are fully 300 miles apart. Pittsburgh wants a bargeway that would reach Lake Erie at Erie—Cincinnati would connect the Miami River, which flows into the Ohio, with the Sandusky River, which flows into Lake Erie at Toledo.

There seems to be something of a race on between the two cities as to which will be the first to comply with the conditions and so take advantage of the survey fund. The Central Inland Waterways Association is backing the Cincinnati proposition. Either scheme, there is reason to anticipate, would be immensely costly even for the digging of a twelve-foot bargeway. The two rivers which it is proposed to connect prong near to each other, but the prongs of each, for a distance of a hundred miles or so, are mere brooks or dry bottoms except after rain floods.—[Baltimore American.

FALSE PROPHECY.

Wheat Yield Increased Since Crookes Predicted World Famine.

Neither the brilliant scientific feats of Sir William Crookes's eighty-seven busy years nor the spiritualistic studies of his later zeal impressed the new world as did his warning, announced in 1898 in "The Wheat Problem," that the race was facing a wheat famine through the growth of population and the chemical exhaustion of available lands.

Wheat scarcity was a fact, but it was curing itself automatically through the rise of prices, which, in 1896, did so much to defeat Mr. Bryan for the Presidency. The American crops of 1895-6-7 had caused the prediction that the United States would soon need all its wheat at home. In the three corresponding years of the next decade our yield was 600,000,000 bushels greater, and vast new areas were being developed in Canada, Argentina and Australia.

In the next decade, again, Europe did face a wheat famine, but because of the war. The American yield continued to grow under the stimulus of need. In the five years, in spite of partial crop failures in 1916 and 1917, we produced nearly 1,000,000,000 bushels more than in the corresponding seasons of the previous decade. The 1,000,000,000 bushel mark was passed for the first time in 1915, and another record breaking yield of more than a billion bushels in 1919 is practically assured. Wheat and flour exports have been greater than our entire crop in the years following the Civil War.

The war has centered the thought of the world upon food as no warring by any scientist, based upon chemical reasoning, could have done. For American farmers the problem now is not so much to find additional wheat land as to double the yield per acre—a feat quite possible and doubtless profitable—and so add to world supply another 1,000,000,000 bushels a year.—[New York World.

RUBBER FROM RABBIT BRUSH.

Recent experiments by two western university professors have shown that rabbit brush is a probable commercial source of rubber, says J. Cecil Alter, in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine. The investigation so far reported is only a preliminary quantitative examination begun quietly some months ago as a war measure, but continued to prevent vitiating valuable information partly developed. It has not yet been announced to be commercially profitable, though in Utah alone there is said to be between 500 and 1000 square miles of the brush, and a great deal more land that could be made to grow the plant. If grown artificially by planting and cultivation, without irrigation, in average Utah weather conditions, a harvest could be taken every four or five years, at a light expense for seeding and harvesting. Under irrigation the yield could probably be increased four-fold. It is estimated. The quantity of rubber in the plant seems to vary directly with the amount of alkali in the soil, up to a certain limit; thus the less value the soil is for agricultural purposes, the more valuable for producing rubber.

PROVED A FAILURE.

A body of French monks who migrated to Canada a few years ago knew that a popular street was obtained from the famous Tree of Canada, so they went forth into the woods and tapped and collected sap and boiled it down and put their maple syrup upon the market in beautiful packages. But, alas, nobody would eat it!

Investigation disclosed, says the Little Journal, that the holy men, in their abundant and unquestioning faith, had tapped every old tree near the monastery, and this boiled-down juice from pine, hickory, spruce, maple, etc., did not appeal to the American palate.

Paris Has Little Monte Carlo.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PARIS, May 2.—It may not be generally known that Paris has its own little Monte Carlo a few miles form its gates, with a beautiful casino where roulette and other gambling games may be played, and containing a club (without the fetich of election,) where baccarat and its like may be indulged in. Its name is Enghien-les-Bains, the baths and mineral waters of the little town being of medical value sufficient to cover the casino as a necessity for its visitors.

The dangers of a gambling center at the very gates of Paris led the Chamber of Deputies to vote in 1913 that no casino be allowed within sixty miles of the capital. The bill was still before the Senate when the war began, and Enghien's casino became a hospital, and is to be brought up for discussion again soon.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Butter and Eggs Down; Looking Forward; Local Financing.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

There is week-end joy in the breast of the permanent victim of high living costs, the Ultimate Consumer. Butter, eggs and beef "took a tumble to theirselfs," as one Main street dealer eloquently expressed it yesterday afternoon. Butter came down two cents a pound in the retail market and best grade creamery was offered as low as sixty-two cents. One store had some good looking "ranch" at sixty cents. Better still, a further cut is coming. Probably early in the week. Can't tell how much yet. Perhaps a jitney a pound within the next week. The present price is at least fifteen cents above the seasonal average for the past few years. The late spring kept the grass back and green grass makes white milk. Eggs, fresh extras, also felt the sharp incision of the price-cutter although the reduction in most cases yesterday was only one cent a dozen. There was quite a wide range in the retail markets running all the way from forty-five to fifty cents the dozen. Eggs are nicely balanced just now. If it remains cool they will go up; if it turns warmer they will go down. This commodity is also much higher than ever before at a corresponding season. The local cattle market is exceedingly weak just now. Arizona and Imperial shipments are finding a thorny road. This condition, however, is affecting the grower more adversely than it is benefitting the consumer, but, at the same time, the retail market does feel a sympathetic twinge. There was a cut yesterday in many local markets of from one to two cents the pound on many cuts, and in the past six weeks there has been a decline of an average of one cent per week. Now that the grass feeders are coming in the large quantities there will be still further declines, but as this column has pointed out before there still appears to be too wide a discrepancy between the live or "hoof" market and the prices which find final expression over the counter at the family butcher store. For the present, however, the main point is that there has been an appreciable fall in three commodities of necessary every day consumption, and for this novel development let us give thanks and sing.

New Straus Issue.

S. W. Straus and Company announce through their Los Angeles office a new issue of $1,500,000 secured by a closed serial first mortgage on the land and buildings of the McCord Manufacturing Company, Detroit, whose plant covers four and a quarter acres in the highly intensified industrial section of that city. This company was organized in 1908, and is said to be the largest exclusive manufacturer of automobile radiators in the country.

Local Financing.

Among the Los Angeles companies recently authorized by the State Corporation Department to sell and issue shares of its capital stock is the New York Cloak and Suit House which may issue 7500 shares, par value $10 each, to J. J. Haggarty in exchange for certain real estate said to be worth $120,000 and subject to a $95,000 mortgage; Southwest Optical Company, to issue stock dividend to its present shareholders of $123,-022 from surplus profits, and to sell 16,837 shares at par for cash. G. and G. Ranch Company, to issue 10,000 shares of its capital stock in exchange for certain real estate; R. E. Thompson and Brothers, to issue 12,500 shares of its capital stock to R. E. Thompson in exchange for the property and assets of a certain business heretofore conducted by him and to sell 12,500 shares at par for cash. The stock issued to Thompson is to be deposited and held as an escrow.

Five Years Prosperity.

George M. Reynolds, who is, perhaps, one of the best informed financiers in the country says that he is convinced we are entering a great period of expansion. "Our $250,000,000,000 of wealth with only $30,000,000,000 of obligations," he observed to a recent interviewer, "are equal to the combined resources of all the big five European nations before the war, England, Germany, France, Austria and Italy. That we can stand $6,000,000,000 of taxes without distress shows our ability to pay. With big crops; with wheat at $2.26 a bushel and corn at $1.50 to $1.75 a bushel there can be no business depression in the West. The coming expansion cannot be stopped. I look for at least five years of unexcelled prosperity."

Last Tax Day.

Tomorrow is the last day upon which income tax returns may be filed under the provisions of the act relating to corporations or individuals. And tomorrow is Sunday. There are still some delinquents and the Collector of Internal Revenue calls attention to the calendar and the fact that no general extension has been granted beyond June 15.

Southern Counties Gas.

The Southern Counties Gas Company, has filed with the Railroad Commission an agreement to pay from the surplus earnings of the company the difference between $825,000, the purchase price of the gas properties to be acquired from the Santa Barbara Gas and Electric Company, and the Southern California Edison Company, and $620,-000, the amount of bonds authorized by the commission in connection with the deal.

Kansas' Pay Roll.

Kansas authorities estimate that $500,000 per day will be needed to pay the 120,000 harvest hands imported next month while in other States the need will run nearly as high. The Kansas City Reserve Bank is being called upon for currency. More than $4,000,-000 was shipped to the farming centers in one week. The denomination most desired is $5 bills.

DUN'S REVIEW.

Sustained Expansion Foreshadowed in Forward Business Trend.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Neither labor controversies nor foreign uncertainties have caused deviation from the forward trend of business and the constructive elements in the situation, which have undergone no essential weakening, foreshadow sustained expansion. Where seasonal influences, such as preparations for midyear inventorying, lessen activities on operations the markets are now rather quietor, but nothing suggests lasting abatement of activities and many more points of gain than of loss are still apparent.

"The commercial recovery, in fact has recently been more rapid and far-reaching than seems to be generally realized and the lifting of the embargo on gold exports from this country, followed immediately by shipments of the metal to South America, is another step in the elimination of artificial restrictions and is significant of the movement toward restoration of normal economic conditions.

GRAIN MARKET MOVES IN AN UPWARD TREND.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 13.—The upward movement in corn and other coarse grains and provisions was on today with new high levels established for July and December corn, excelling the previous high on September corn reaching a new high on December oats.

Trade was spasmodic and influenced largely by the weather and crop reports. Closing sales while at intermediate figures showed gains of 1 cent on corn and ¼@¾ cent on oats in Chicago.

Corn in Kansas City gained 1@1¾ cents with September leading in strength. Oats there were ¾ cent higher and in Minneapolis were unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Many had reports of crop damage from cut worms, grasshoppers and rust are coming from the Northwest and West. Cairo, Ills., reports three days of fine weather and that cutting of wheat is under way there. It is also in operation in Southern Kansas. New York reports four cargoes of Argentine corn bought there Thursday at $1.52¾@1.54 for shipment by sailing vessels and by steamers at $1.45.

A big trade was on in corn and the market unsettled, sentiment was bullish, early cash prices advanced 1¾@2¼ cents over the previous day's finish, with local shorts and commission houses on the bulging side, but above $1.75 for July and around $1.67 for September there was numerous profit-taking sales which filled buyers up. A reaction of 2¼@2¾ cents followed to below the previous close, but toward the last reinstating of lines sold out on the bulge, and covering by the pit element made a rally, and the finish was firm.

July was $1.72½ at the last while September was $1.66 and December $1.44. The undertone was very nervous.

Not sales in cash were small although prices had a range of ¼@1¾ cents.

EGGS STORED NOW TO BE 80 CENTS IN FALL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET IS STEADY; CANTALOUPE PRICES WEAK.

Local produce showed considerable strength yesterday with the exception of cantaloupes, which continued to sag owing to the large supply on hand. Heavy shipments arriving on the local market forecast low prices for at least a week or ten days, say local dealers. The stock came in a little better shape and moved freely during the early part of the session at a fractional decline, but nearing the close prices dropped sharply because of glints or no demand. Some overripe stock was on hand, but retail dealers refused to bid on it. The usual run of peddlers who buy up inferior stock were not present to clear up the unshippable commodities.

Apricots were plentiful and prices held steady for first-class stock. Most of the offerings were small, unassorted, or of very inferior quality and were stagnant throughout the entire session, and moved slowly at a low figure.

The canneries are forcing prices upward on nearly all fruits and vegetables, and frequently offering better prices for stock than wholesale dealers on the markets. The canneries have huge orders from Europe and must obtain as much as possible of the good fruit available at this time of the year to fill them. Produce dealers expect a heavy advance in all canned goods this summer owing to the high cost of labor and materials paid by the producer. The majority of the dealers predict a very light public consumption of canned fruits and vegetables and also that the canneries may work at a loss because of the high prices they are paying for all varieties of products.

The local butter and egg market was firm yesterday. Case count advanced ½ cent, while fresh extras opened strong at 47½ and a large quantity was sold at this figure, but nearing the close prices dropped back to Thursday's price of 47 per dozen.

Eggs are now being put away in storage in California at the highest prices on record, one handler being that the consumer next winter may pay 60 cents per dozen.

The storers put eggs away when the prices were 46½ cents per dozen. A 2-cent storage cost, 1½ cents for interest, and 1 cent for depreciation makes an actual cost of 53 cents a dozen. These eggs will have to move out at 80 cents if the owner is simply to break even with a 7½ cent margin of profit, 8 cents on an investment of 53 cents. The jobber will put them out at 63 cents or more, likely 64 cents a dozen, and that means that storage eggs must sell at 71 cents average in order to show the smallest profit, and the price early for about an 80-cent market for fresh eggs.

The following prices were obtained by local wholesalers yesterday:

COTTON MARKET HAS RALLY AFTER FALL.

IRREGULAR OPENING IS FOLLOWED BY DECLINE, WITH CLOSING STRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—The cotton market had an irregular opening today, first prices being 11 points lower to 2 points higher under scattered selling on a favorable early weather report. July sold up from 31.30 to 31.75 cents while October advanced from 30.85 to 31.34 cents shortly after the call, or about 22 to 44 points net higher on the more active positions.

The market turned easier later in the morning under realizing and liquidation attributed to prospects for good weather over the week-end and nervousness over political conditions. July sold off from 31.50 to 31.18 cents and October declined to 30.60 cents, or about 25 to 30 points net lower. A prominent southwestern authority places the midmonth condition at 71.7 compared with 75.6 toward the end of May.

The break extended to 30.50 cents for October during the early afternoon, or 40 points net lower, but at this level there was a renewed demand from trade interests which caused a rallies of 15 or 20 points from the lowest.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The local market for spot cotton was quiet, 10 points lower to 32.85 cents for middling upland. Sales, none.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston, 32.60 cents; New Orleans, 31.88 cents; Savannah, 32 cents; Augusta, 31.87 cents; Houston, 32.00 cents; Little Rock, 31.25 cents.

WHEAT STORAGE TO BE ADDED TO BASIC PRICE.

AFTER JULY PREMIUMS WILL BE ANNOUNCED THIRTY DAYS IN ADVANCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—To preserve a natural flow of wheat from the farm, periodical premium covering storage charges will be added to the basic price at various grain markets, according to an announcement here tonight by Julius H. Barnes, United States Wheat Director.

These premiums will not be introduced during July. For each succeeding month, however, premiums will be announced thirty days in advance.

Mr. Barnes also announced railroad rates from inter-mountain and Pacific Coast territory to Eastern and New York seaboard to be reduced to 50 cents per hundred, the equivalent of 33.6 cents per bushel. This reduction, Mr. Barnes explained, is intended as a relief to the producers in these sections as the Grain Corporation cannot pursue its practice of making effective as to $2 blanket minimum price for all wheat at inter-mountain points, but will be obliged to confine itself to paying $2 at Pocatello, Great Falls and Salt Lake City, leaving the rest of the western territory to take on the commercial market most readily reached by it.

To secure a larger flow of wheat to the Gulf ports, Mr. Barnes said he had decided to seek an executive order increasing the number of bases paid at Galveston and New Orleans from $2.26 to $2.30 per bushel. He added he expected this change would become effective July 1.

MAY OFFSET RAILROAD DEFICIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Increasing business, which, it is hoped, may offset the railroad deficit sufficiently to make an advance in rates unnecessary, was reported by the Railroad Administration in statistics for traffic last week. In the central western region there was an increase of 64 per cent. over the same week last year in the loading of grain, and in the Northwest the increase was 100 per cent. All freight handled in the Southwest was 11 per cent. more than last year. Cotton is moving freely to the Gulf Coast under promises of additional steamers. In the East, general freight movement is subnormal, but ore shipments are increasing.

Rates on paper throughout trunk-line territory must be revised to make them conform to a definite and uniform basis, the Interstate-Commerce Commission declared today.

W ZINC USES CREATE DEMAND

Mining Companies Want Restrictions Removed.

is Firm; Twenty Cents is Predicted.

Producers Propose Control Combine.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Compared with average prices in this market, spelter has declined 1½ cents a pound last week, the present quotation being fixed by the smelters at $6.15 per pound.

Despite the scarcity of spelter rather than lack of demand, with only a limited demand from consumers, with only a limited demand from trade, with only a limited demand from users, there is little or no spelter coming on the market, and there is no inducement to the domestic producers to look for domestic and export business at a better rate of prices than prevailed during the first five months of the year. Consequently, although there is no lack of inquiry for spelter, with manufacturers ready to buy in the way of obtaining supplies, there is a comparatively limited demand for the metal, and little demand for this reason, that the manufacturers are unable to get the metal, which is not to be made to join with their demands.

A VERY GOOD MARKET.

Despite the gold-mining companies are not prepared to withdraw to any great extent their metal, holding it for a higher price, there is no lack of spelter where dealers are willing to pay 15 to 25 per cent higher than the market quotation, but even at these prices there is not a large amount of metal available.

Despite a moderate amount of business passing, there is not only an active demand for Federal Reserve Board-certificated spelter, but there is also a demand from South America for export, with more than enough metal has been drawn from the open market to supply the demand, and there is no spelter coming on the market, which could not figure in which could be made to join-

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Twenty-one Colorado tungsten producing companies informed the House Ways and Means Committee today that they would not resume production unless granted a tariff of $10 a unit on their product.

The tungsten industry is in a critical condition," declared their telegram, read by Representative Timberlake, Republican, of Colorado. "Immediate relief is imperative, or all mills and mines, dumps and the ores mined are filling with water."

Representative Kahn of California declared the development of tungsten mining began as a war necessity, would make the United States independent of American competition, with its low mining cost, was prevented.

NEW ASSAULT IS MADE ON BONDS.

Second Suit to Enjoin City from Taking Action.

William Mead Attacks Issue on Score of Points.

Miller Injunction Hearing to Come Before Jackson.

A suit to enjoin the city from proceeding further with the sale of $13,500,000 power bonds voted for at the election on the 3rd inst., and setting up a number of alleged irregularities that invalidated the bonds, was filed by William Mead yesterday. The suit is directed against the city of Los Angeles, and various city official boards.

The court is asked to enjoin the signing of the bonds, their delivery, or the expenditure of any portion of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds for the purpose of acquiring the distributing system of the Edison company. The bonds are alleged to be unauthorized, and the election void.

BALLOTS FAULTY.

It is alleged the ballots printed did not contain reference to any proposition for incurring a bonded debt of $13,500,000, in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 39976. The election was not held in accordance with the provisions of the statutes and the State law, it is contended. In all, there are more than a score of counts upon which Mr. Mead relies in his effort to prevent the sale of the bonds and the diversion of the money to the acquisition of a distributing system.

The injunction suit filed against the city by Abner Miller yesterday alleging that the contract of the city with the Edison company is invalid and unlawful, will be heard on an order to show cause granted by Presiding Judge Weller yesterday and set for Judge Jackson's department on the 24th inst. H. M. Himrod, former deputy City Attorney, prepared the complaint.

DEMAND ON COUNCIL.

Formal demand that the $13,500,000 power bond election be declared void was made upon the City Council late yesterday afternoon in a petition filed with the City Clerk. It is claimed in the petition that the election was illegally called and that the count was irregular.

Ann M. McCrea, the petitioner, claims the right to inspect each of the ballots cast in the power bond fight. In a second petition also filed with the City Clerk the City Council is asked to declare the power purchase election void. A bond of $500 is filed with each petition.

In the event that this demand is refused by the Council on Monday, then the petitions demand that a recount of the ballots in each of the 755 precincts be made.

The petitions are filed through Attorneys Barnhill & Pratt, who were assisted by Harry M. Willis, who have offices in the Title Insurance Building. "This is the opening gun of a determined fight to contest every phase of the recent power bond election," said Attorney Edgar G. Pratt yesterday.

WILL ADVOCATE CITY AIRDROME.

Aviation Center Planners are to Meet Today.

And Formulate Plan to be Presented to Council.

Advance Statement Gives Gist of Proposition.

An informal conference is to be held at 9:30 o'clock this forenoon in the City Council chamber by persons who wish to advance the interests of Los Angeles as an aviation center. It is proposed to formulate a concrete business proposition to present to the City Council early next week, looking toward the establishment of a municipal airdrome.

Public utility companies have been requested to have representatives present, and invitations have been extended to various other business organizations and individuals, also to Col. L. J. Mygatt, commander of the United States Balloon School at Ross Field, Arcadia, and to the Syd Chaplin Aircraft Corporation and the Mercury Aviation Company.

In the announcement regarding the meeting, sent out by H. Z. Osborne, Jr., chief engineer of the Public Utilities Board, he says:

The most feasible plan suggested thus far appears to be as follows:

First—To rent a field which corresponds with government specifications for landing fields;

Second—Sublease hangar space, fixing the rent to cover the expense.

The field should contain approximately fifty-five to seventy-six acres, details of which were included in my report to the Board of Public Utilities. It is hoped that a reasonable rental can be secured through the efforts of patriotic and public-spirited citizens.

Two sides of the landing field should be devoted to hangars, repair shops and accessories, leaving two sides open for flying and appurtenances. As stated, the rental of the hangar space should be proportioned to defray the expenses involved, thereby relieving the city of expense.

A systematic, co-operative arrangement will cut the expense from one-quarter to one-tenth of what it will otherwise amount to.

The city of Los Angeles is vitally interested in the subject of aeronautics by reason of public safety. The Federal government is strongly in favor of the development of the subject of aeronautics. I am credibly informed, because of its military aspects. From the experience of cities abroad and at home, adequate regulatory measures must be taken by the city of Los Angeles for the protection of the general public against careless flying, and the many phases incident to this new method of transportation. This can best be accomplished with a minimum of expense by the city securing control of the landing field.

The purpose of the meeting is therefore:

First—To secure the ideas of interested parties;

Second—To have presented the different locations for the proposed airdrome, with financial statements including full particulars as to rental and term of years available;

Third—A definite statement as to the financial aid that may be offered for the purpose of subleasing hangar space to assist in defraying the expense of the municipal field;

Fourth—Statements from representatives of the Bureau of Light and Power, and Waterworks and Supply, and the utility companies, as to the possibilities of securing water, electricity, etc., and the approximate estimate as to the time it might take to install them, with any other conditions involved.

HAD TO DESCEND.

Senator Hart Too Hefty as Plane Passenger for Oakland.

Al Wilson, piloting a special Canadian Curtiss biplane, arrived at San Francisco from Los Angeles at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to a telegram received by George A. Hart, of the Hotel Rosslyn, from his brother, Senator D. H. Hart. Wilson was accompanied on his flight by William W. McKeighan, chief clerk of the Hotel Rosslyn, who with Senator Hart, will attend the California Hotel Men's convention at Oakland. All preparations had been made by Senator Hart to take the trip himself, but at the last moment on Thursday, when the flight started, it was decided that on account of Senator Hart's 250-pound weight he would not make an ideal passenger when the machine went skipping over the Techachepi Mountains 5000 or 6000 feet in the air. So Chief Clerk McKeighan who weighs but 130 pounds was substituted. Senator Hart then left by automobile for San Francisco, and was at the field when the plane landed.

The machine left Fresno yesterday afternoon. The only other stop was at Bakersfield on Thursday afternoon when the gasoline tank was refilled. The pilot and his passenger plan to leave San Francisco on Monday for Los Angeles.

QUARTER MILLION JUDGMENT VOID.

COURT'S ACT CLEARS CLOUD FROM BIG ESTATE WHICH JOHN LAPIQUE SUED.

The judgment which County Clerk H. J. Lelande entered against Frank E. Walsh, administrator of the estate of Laurent Echepare, at the alleged procurement of John Lapique, was set aside by Presiding Judge Weller yesterday on the motion of Alexander MacDonald, counsel for Mr. Walsh, on the ground that it was unauthorized, illegal and void.

The judgment was a personal judgment against Mr. Walsh for $250,000 in favor of Mr. Lapique. The judgment recites this sum as due from rents, use and occupation of the property, and as entered clouds the title of the estate of Maria Espirito Chiljulia de Leonis which is said to be worth about $500,000.

Mr. Lapique, who was indicted by the county grand jury May 14, charged with preparing false evidence, was arrested in Redwood City and is now in the County Jail under $3000 bail. The alleged false evidence was preparing papers purporting to be deeds to three parcels of land which are a part of the de Leonis estate.

WOULD PROVE ALIBI IN LARCENY CHARGE.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY IS THE DEFENSE OF MAN ACCUSED BY HOTEL CLERK.

The arrest of Robert W. Haddon, a mining engineer, and a fellow of the Royal Colonial Institute of London, was a case of mistaken identity, according to statements made yesterday by Haddon and Arthur Keetch, his attorney. Haddon was arrested, last Saturday, on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged he represented himself to be David A. Lewes, one of the principals and a representative of the Ural Mountains Navigation and Mining Corporation, Ltd., of London, and thus obtained an envelope containing $950 in currency deposited with a clerk at the Clark Hotel. The case was continued, yesterday, by Justice Forbes to next Friday.

The envelope was left by Mr. Lewes with a day clerk, on June 4, (Wednesday,) and the next morning, at 6 o'clock, a man, representing himself to be Mr. Lewes, called and got the envelope, according to H. M. Beam, a night clerk on duty at the time.

Haddon asserted, yesterday, that he was able to account for his time from 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening to about noon of the following day. He lives at Moneta. He says that he arose at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and a short time afterwards went to a butcher shop. He did not go downtown until afternoon.

These facts are being investigated by Deputy District Attorney Heinecke.

Council May Help Harbor Board Keep Up Its Good Work.

Some time ago the City Council made provision for advancing to the Harbor Commission $10,000 a month, to be repaid out of harbor bond funds when they are sold, in order that constant progress might be made on the construction of an extension of the seawall at Fish Harbor. The Harbor Commission yesterday asked for a continuance of this monthly advance for at least three more months, so that the work may be continued without interruption. The government will soon have its dredgers at work in widening the inner harbor channel, and it is desired that this wall may be in readiness to hold the dredging deposits from this work. A large area of municipally-owned land will thus be reclaimed for industrial and commercial purposes. The commission's request was referred to the Finance Committee, and will be acted upon by the committee appointed by the new Council, as there are sufficient funds on hand to prosecute the work during the present month.

PASADENAN CAPTURED MACHINE GUN NEST.

Private William H. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Price, of 275 Park street, Pasadena, returned yesterday from France, decorated with the Croix de Guerre, which was awarded to him for conspicuous heroism in service. His citation for bravery reads as follows: "After all members of his patrol had fallen, he alone captured a machine-gun nest which they were attacking."

Private Price was a member of the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Infantry, Thirty-second Division. He was severely wounded in action, and at one time was compelled to crawl two and one-half miles with one arm broken and a shoulder dislocated.

REDUCE COUPLE OF POUNDS.

By an order received yesterday by Postmaster Brown, the weight of parcel post packages to be dispatched from this country to points in Brazil has been reduced from twenty-two to twenty pounds. The rates remain at 12 cents a pound or fraction of a pound. This agreement has just been reached between the Postoffice Department and the Postal Administration of Brazil.

LEAVES COMMISSION.

Mrs. Chester C. Ashley, who was elected a member of the Board of Education at the recent election, yesterday tendered to Mayor Woodman her resignation as a member of the Social Service Commission. Mayor Woodman stated that he would not undertake to fill any vacancies on boards or commissions, leaving them for Mayor-elect Snyder to fill.

EXTENDING SEWERING.

Approval was given by the City Council yesterday to the assessment district map for the sewering of Lincoln avenue. A petition for the opening of Serrano street was referred to the City Engineer. An ordinance was adopted vacating a portion of an unnamed street lying southerly of and adjacent to block 2 of the Montana tract. A deed was accepted for land for sewer purposes across property in the Highland Heights tract.
